By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Congress which could have a more important role than the new president in shaping America's destiny in the critical years ahead will be elected tomorrow, along with 29 governors.

The 432 men and women who will be named to the House of Representatives and the 34 men who will be elected to round out the Senate's membership of 96 may largely determine the success of the new administration. (Maine elected a governor, a senator and three representatives on Sept. 8.)

218 Seats Needed

Here is a quick summary of the side elections Tuesday:

House of Representatives—the entire membership of 435 must be elected every two years. For control of the House, a political party needs 218 seats. The present lineup is 232 Democrats, 202 Republicans and one independent, including four vacancies. Seeking election are 911 candidates.

Senate—35 will be elected this year, including one already chosen in Maine. These include 33 seeking full six-year terms and two running for unexpired terms. For control, 49 seats are necessary. The present lineup is 49 Democrats, 46 Republicans and one Republican-independent. Of the 34 seats at stake Tuesday, 20 are held by Republicans, 14 by Democrats. The 61 holdovers include 35 Democrats and 26 Republicans. The already elected senator from Maine is a Republican. Seeking election are 96 candidates.

Democrats Hold Edge

Governors—30, including one already elected in Maine, will be elected this year. They are about equally divided now between Republicans and Democrats. Of the 18 governors not affected by Tuesday's voting, 10 are Republicans, eight are Democrats. Seeking the governorships to be filled are 70 candidates.

Historically, but not invariably, the political party that wins the

ABOARD EISENHOWER TRAIN
—Mamie Eisenhower, refreshed and rested after a comparative vacation of four days, plunged back today into the rigors of campaigning for the windup tonight in Boston.

After an overnight trip from New York on the 19-car campaign special, the general's lady faced almost as busy a day as her presidential candidate husband.

The morning will be filled, weather permitting, with an open-car tour of the Massachusetts capital and its suburbs.

Highlight of her day will be a reception sponsored by a number of Boston women's organizations.

Then will follow the big rally at Boston Garden, where she'll be presented to the crowd, and after that still another appearance—an 11th-hour network television and radio show which will formally bring the campaign to a close.

Lake Michigan Level Drops In October; Still Above 1951 Top

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—The level of Lake Michigan receded a bit in October but still stands two inches higher than it did a year ago.

The U. S. Engineering Department office here reported today that the water level dropped 1.5 inches in October to 581.77 feet above sea level.

It was only the second month in the last 13 that the water has gone down. The high point was reached last August when the lake was 582.7 feet above sea level.

MICHIGAN MINE DISASTER SCENE—A state policeman peers down into the shaft of a mine at Herron, Mich., following an explosion that killed five men. The men were prospecting for uranium in an abandoned gold mine when the explosion occurred. The body of the last of the five killed in the explosion was recovered Sunday. It was that of Sieghard Domke, 47. The body was caught by grappling hooks at the end of a 300-foot line lowered into the shaft of approximately that depth, the bottom 100 feet under water. Origin of the blast Thursday has not been determined. It was heard and felt in Alpena, 12 miles away. (AP Wirephoto)

Optimistic Stevenson Pens His Last Appeal

By DON WHITEHEAD
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Optimism outweighed all the doubts in Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's camp today as he carefully penned his last—and perhaps most dramatic—appeal to the voters before tomorrow's presidential election.

This speech will be delivered tonight from Chicago in a national radio-television program featuring the Democratic candidate, President Truman, Vice President Barkley and Sen. John S. Sparkman of Alabama, the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

Claims 32 States

Stevenson worked in his office at the Executive Mansion and even his own lieutenants said they didn't know what he was going to say.

The candidate was due to leave here by plane late today for Chicago. He will spend the night there, cast his vote tomorrow in the little town of Half Day, Ill., and then return to Springfield.

Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's campaign manager, predicted last night the Democratic nominee will win at least 400 electoral votes and carry at least 32 of the 48 states. It takes 266 electoral votes to elect.

Showers Ease Up Fire Hazard

(By The Associated Press)

A scattering of showers and thunderstorms gave a measure of relief from forest and brush fire danger in Ohio and western New York State today.

But most of the rest of the nation had continuing fair weather expected to last at least through Election Day tomorrow.

The fire situation continued critical in West Virginia, Texas, Tennessee and Alabama where in some areas hundreds of soldiers and volunteer civilian fire fighters neared exhaustion in the unremitting fight.

Pennsylvania's small game hunting season, scheduled to begin Saturday, was postponed as a precautionary measure. Massachusetts and Rhode Island have closed their forests to the public.

Campaign Ends Tonight; Verdict Left To People

By GARDNER BRIDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The long campaign trails end on a big question mark today and a great political spotlight swings tomorrow to the most ardently wooed people on earth—the American voters.

It will be up to them to decide whether they want Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower or Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson to guide the nation for the next four years.

On Radio Tonight

Both presidential nominees and their running mates, Sen. John J. Sparkman, Democrat, and Sen. Richard M. Nixon, Republican, will close out the campaign tonight with a final appeal for votes over nationwide radio and television hookups.

Eisenhower, joined by Nixon, speaks from Boston at 10 p.m. on a nationwide radio-television program.

In addition to a president and vice president, an estimated 55 million or more voters tomorrow will elect 432 members of the House of Representatives, 4 senators, 29 governors, numerous other state and local officers, and will pass judgment on a wide variety of referenda.

Millions Won't Vote

Maine, voting in September, already has elected a governor, a senator and three House members, all Republicans.

There are 75,579,785 persons eligible to vote but on the basis of past performance it is expected that approximately 20 million of them will not do so.

But like the outcome of the election itself, nobody seems too sure about this. All indications point to a record outpouring of ballots, surpassing by far the 49,820,000 rolled up in the Roosevelt-Willkie contest

Bloody Hilltop Held By Reds

By MILO FARNETI
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Deadly Chinese mortar fire cut to bits and stopped cold a series of heroic South Korean attacks today on bloody Triangle Hill.

At least four times the ROKs stormed the crest. Dug-in Chinese stood them off with pin-pointed mortar fire and showers of hand grenades.

Big U. N. guns literally blew the top off Triangle and saturated Red positions in a valley to the north. The barrage disrupted the Chinese artillery batteries, but it couldn't suppress the lighter, more accurate mortars, nor rout Red troops from their holes and tunnels.

Savage fighting on the Central Front hill mass continued until dusk with the Reds holding grimly to the prized peak.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, said in a statement that Allied forces are "in complete control of the situation" at Triangle and nearby Sniper Ridge.

"We can and will continue to chew up all the Chinese they want to throw into the battle," he asserted.

An Editorial Protect Your Vote; Vote No On 2, Yes On 3

The entire Upper Peninsula of Michigan is united in opposition to Amendment Proposal No. 2, which would drastically reduce the Upper Peninsula's representation in the Michigan Legislature.

The entire Upper Peninsula of Michigan is united in support of Amendment Proposal No. 3, which would more equitably preserve the Upper Peninsula's representation in the Michigan Legislature.

Don't be misled by the last minute efforts of the so-called Michigan Committee for Representative Government to confuse the issues. A postcard campaign is being conducted which reads "Stop the Detroit Board of Commerce Power Grab." The card then urges an affirmative vote on Proposal 3.

If Proposal 3 is enacted, the Upper Peninsula representation in the House of Representatives would be reduced from eight to five. The Upper Peninsula representation in the Michigan Senate would be reduced from three to less than two. Four Lower Peninsula counties would dominate both branches of the Michigan Legislature.

This is a non-partisan issue. For the protection of the value of your vote, no matter whether you are Republican or Democratic, Vote No on Proposal No. 2. Vote Yes on Proposal No. 3.

Eisenhower Picks Boston For His Zero-Hour Speech

By RELMAN MORIN
En Route to Boston With Eisenhower (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower comes to the end of the campaign trail tonight, making his last great bid for the most powerful elective office in the world, the presidency of the United States.

He chose Boston, a city rich in the traditions of early America, as the site for his final effort.

The approach of zero-hour found the Korean War—and the problem of war and survival generally—as the over-riding issue of the campaign.

Program For Korea

Eisenhower has gone on record with the belief that South Korean soldiers can be trained in sufficient numbers to permit American divisions to be withdrawn to rear areas, and held in reserve. He says he would push such a program if he is elected.

Implementing this, the general promised to go to Korea himself, if he becomes president, to study the problem at first hand.

At the same time, he has fired some of his heaviest broadsides at President Truman's government, charging it with responsibility for conditions that permitted the Korean fighting to start, and with having failed to build a South Korean Army capable of taking over its front lines in the 29 months since the war started.

President Enters Fray

At the 11th hour, Truman joined the fray on this same critical point. He de-classified a Department of Defense document of September, 1947. Signed by the late Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, it quoted a report from the Joint Chiefs of Staff and said they considered that from the standpoint of military security, the U. S. had "little interest" in maintaining its troops and bases in Korea.

Eisenhower was Army chief of staff at the time and the President has claimed that he bears part of the responsibility for the decision to pull American forces off the peninsula.

Eisenhower's answer has been that the political decision to withdraw came two years after the

Korean Debate Deadlocks UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations Assembly's Political Committee renews its debates this afternoon on the Korean question, faced with a middle-ground Mexican proposal to solve the Korean truce talks deadlocked by letting prisoners of war go to other U. N. countries.

The new Mexican resolution is the first small country attempt to reach the stage of a formal proposal in the effort to reconcile the U. S. and Russian viewpoints on war prisoners.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson promised that any plan which would not force war prisoners to return to Communist territory against their will would be studied. Russia's Andrei Vishinsky has called for a new commission to "settle the Korean question" and objected to the screening by U. S. commanders of the war prisoners.

Somewhere between those two positions, delegates of little countries feel they can find the key which will unlock the prison gates, effect a complete armistice, and still save everybody's face on the question.

Last Rites Held Today For Wife Of Bing Crosby

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Thousands of mourners are expected today at funeral services for Dixie Lee Crosby, who gave up film stardom to become the wife of crooner Bing Crosby.

Mrs. Crosby, who would have been 41 tomorrow, died Saturday of cancer.

Solemn requiem High Mass will be celebrated at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

More than 10,000 letters and telegrams of condolences have been received at the Crosby home from all parts of the world.

Mrs. Crosby was received into the Catholic Church last Monday. Bing and their four sons, Gary, 19, Phillip and Dennis, 18-year-old twins, and Lindsay, 14, all are members of that faith.

Cleary Steps In To Boost Potter

(By The Associated Press)

Owen J. Cleary stepped temporarily out of his race as Republican nominee for secretary of state over the weekend to lend a hand to Rep. Charles Potter, the GOP nominee for U. S. senator.

Speaking as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, Cleary asserted "left-wing, carpet-bagging groups" have joined the CIO and its Political Action Committee in support of Democratic Senator Blair Moody.

Cleary claimed in a statement issued in Detroit that 17 "outrights" had been tossed into the campaign in a "last-minute smear" of Potter.

Senator Moody could not be reached for an immediate reply to Cleary's charges, but declared in Sunday addresses in Detroit:

"My Republican opponent has made hundreds of speeches around the state about all the things that ought to be done to make the world a better place to live in, but at no time has he exhibited any record of achievement in that direction."

Marquette Prison Escapers Caught In Baraga County

MARQUETTE (AP)—Four Marquette State Prison inmates bound and gagged a guard and fled from the prison's Camp Cusino in Alger County, bound him and covered his mouth with adhesive tape. Then they grabbed a shotgun from Wiseman's car, cut the camp's telephone wires and fled in a prison auto.

Three hours later state police from the L'Anse post spotted the four at a police blockade near Nestoria in Baraga County. When they gave chase, the prisoners abandoned the car and took to the woods.

More than 25 state police, sheriff's officers and conservation men tracked the four in a light snow. They seized Bird immediately, Jones and Scarborough about 8 a. m., and Rompanen about 9 a. m.

Bird told the officers he threw away the shotgun.

Rep. Crawford Joins Firm Of Consultants On Leaving Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Crawford (R-Mich.) has announced that upon leaving Congress Jan. 3 he will join a new firm of consultants specializing in legislation, tax matters and government.

His associates will be J. Hardin Peterson, former Democratic congressman from Florida, and Irwin W. Silverman, chief counsel for the last 10 years for the Interior Department's office of territories. The firm's office will be in Washington.

Crawford sought nomination for a 10th consecutive term but was defeated in the Michigan GOP primary by Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso.

Crawford owns and operates a dairy farm in Maryland.

Korea War And Time To Change Are Big Issues

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The American people pick a new president tomorrow and their decision may turn on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's 11th-hour promise of a flying visit to Korea or Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's hammering theme that they "never had it so good."

In the balance, too, are Stevenson's claim that his opponent is a captive of the Republican Old Guard and Eisenhower's rallying cry of "time for a change."

On the eve of the election, virtually no nonpartisan political observer is willing to forecast the outcome beyond the cautious prediction that the popular vote may be fairly close. The electoral vote, which settles the issue, apparently could swing widely either way, depending on the trend.

Old Depression Bogy

Down to the last hour, Eisenhower has been pressing what his Republican backers believe is the 10-strike of the campaign—his proposal to go to Korea, if he is elected, to try to do something about bringing the war to an "early and honorable end."

Stevenson has fired round after round of Democratic attacks on this proposal, contending that Eisenhower knows nothing can come of it and asserting that Moscow, not Korea, holds the answer.

At the same time, the Democratic nominee has dinned into voters' ears his theme that the Democrats helped bring the country to its highest level of prosperity. He has painted the picture of a possible depression if the Republicans win.

Both Camps Uneasy

Thus at the end of the campaign which began on an announced high level has dipped into personalities, wallowed in the mud of accusations and has come to the point where it may be settled on two issues over which neither party might be able to exert much control.

Charges of communism and corruption, isolationism, and Old Guardism still play their part in the final sound and fury of the candidates. But on Korea and what might be called the "pocketbook nerve" may rest the outcome.

The campaign windup finds two tired and pretty much enervated men happy that it's all over. Both are outwardly confident of victory. But there is uneasiness in both camps.

Eisenhower has traveled about 50,000 miles, waving his arms and showing his smile to millions. Stevenson has traveled some 15,000 fewer miles, depending more heavily than his opponent on television to make his face and name known to the voters.

For Eisenhower, the time since his nomination in July has been a continuous period of adjustment. He started slowly and Stevenson, with a previous political campaign under his belt in Illinois, got the jump with a series of smartly done speeches.

But when Eisenhower went south, (Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 3)

Vote 'No' On Proposal No. 2; Vote 'Yes' On Proposal No. 3

Thennis Cleared On Both Charges

The charges of rape and assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder against William Thennis were dismissed in Circuit Court this morning, clearing the 19 year old youth of guilt in the assault made by Donald Provo upon a young Escanaba girl Oct. 9.

Both counts were removed upon a motion of the young man's counsel, Atty. Howard McDonough, that the cases be quashed inasmuch as the intent to commit rape, the charge on which Provo was convicted, could not be passed to Thennis and because there was no evidence of conspiracy of the two men in the assault to which Provo pleaded guilty.

McDonough was appointed by the court to defend Thennis.

Provo, 20, of 1325 N. 22nd St., and Thennis of 913 First Ave. N., were charged with similar counts of rape and assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder on information supplied by the complaining witness and victim, a 17 year old Escanaba girl.

Same Testimony
In his motion to quash the charges McDonough told Presiding Judge Glenn W. Jackson that the testimony that was offered in the Provo trial would be the same as would be produced in the cases, if tried, against Thennis.

"This being so," he said, "it would appear that intent to commit the crime of rape would have to be passed from Provo to Thennis and there is no testimony of conspiracy relative to the charges made. The intent could not be imputed to Thennis."

Following this Prosecutor Clyde McGonagle declared to the court that the People were in agreement that the evidence in the case would be substantially the same as in the trial of Provo, that the state makes no presupposition of conspiracy and that there is no evidence of a joint assault on the girl.

"The People therefore," he said, "do not oppose the motion for dismissal."

In granting the dismissal Judge Jackson stated that "it appears that Thennis is complained against as being what is known as an accessory."

"Requires Knowledge"
In this case, he continued, "there is lack of evidence of any active part Thennis played to (urge) Provo to do what he did. The question then is one of aiding and abetting. The testimony is definite in that Thennis was driving the automobile and that Provo and the girl were in the back."

"If Provo had been convicted of rape, cause could be found for this case to go to the jury. This offense (rape) requires knowledge on the part of Thennis of what was in the mind of Provo. He might have known that Provo went into the back seat to have intercourse but he apparently had no knowledge that he would do it with the use of force and against the will of the girl."

"Thennis may have had knowledge later of what was going on but under the law of Michigan mere knowledge does make a person guilty of the offense being committed. The person is not obliged to stop the commission of a crime in his presence," Judge Jackson opined.

Affirmative Action Necessary
"If the person fails to stop the crime, it does not constitute his guilt in the offense committed. The person complained against (Thennis) is not responsible unless he did some affirmative act in the commission of the offense. There is nothing to indicate any affirmative action except driving the car at Provo's request, and this would not impute his knowledge that Provo intended to have intercourse against the girl's will."

Turning to the assault charge against Thennis, the judge stated that "the assault also deals with the intent in the mind of Provo. Mere presence and failure to stop the act does not render Thennis guilty."

"I am satisfied," Judge Jackson concluded, "that a jury would have to render a verdict in favor of the defendant and therefore grant to motion to dismiss both cases."

Thennis was released from county jail late this morning.

Elkhorn Quartet Wins District Championship In Escanaba Contest

Four purveyors of barbershop harmony from Elkhorn, Wis., singing under the name of the Agriculturists, won the Land O' Lakes SPEBSQSA district championship Saturday night in a contest held at the Escanaba Junior high school auditorium. The Elkhorn quartet, members of the Whitewater, Wis., barbershop chapter, took the title in competition with 10 other quartets from Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. Applause indicated audience approval of the judges' decision. The winners probably also were the most colorful in attire. They wore farmer straw hats, red overalls and blue shirts.

Second place in the contest, staged before a packed house at the Oliver Memorial auditorium, went to the Alleg-Rogues of Appleton, Wis., a quartet including two members of the former Sing-Copates championship quartet. Third place went to a Marquette, Mich., foursome, the Four Bits of Harmony, who made their Escanaba debut last year in the "After-Glow" program of the local barbershop chapter show.

Allan Kapitzke, president of the Land O' Lakes district, presented the prize championship trophy to the Elkhorn quartet, and individual awards were affixed by four of the Escanaba usherettes at the Saturday night show. Judges were Ed Smith of Wayne, Mich., international president of the SPEBSQSA; John Z. Means, Manitowoc, Wis.; R. M. Donahue, West Bend, Wis.; H. E. Beyer, Sheboygan, Wis.; L. Sletten, Minneapolis, Minn.; and A. G. Bliz, Green Bay, Wis., secretary of judges. Timers were George Coan and Clovis Colvin of Escanaba.

The Bay de Noc chorus of the Escanaba chapter, under the direction of Sam Ham, opened the program Saturday night with four selections. Other breaks in the contest program included audience singing under the direction of Wallace Cameron of Gladstone and selections by the popular For Mor Boys of Madison, Wis., quartet stylists who responded to several encores. A dozen massed quartets participated in two finale songs: "Coney Island Babe" and "Keep America Singing."

All quartets were heard again in an informal "After-Glow" program held at the Knights of Columbus recreation center after the contest. Wallace Cameron officiated as master of ceremonies.

A barbershop song clinic held at 9 a. m. Sunday closed the convention, which opened Friday afternoon. The May regional meeting of the SPEBSQSA district will be at Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

The formal charge previously implied that Coyne had knowledge that his car struck a human body, that of Tom Cannon, young Gladstone athlete, on US-2, 41 the early morning of July 27. Cannon was killed instantaneously in the accident.

After granting of the motion by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson, Prosecutor Clyde McGonagle amended the charge to include the information that the defendant knew that his automobile had been involved in an accident which resulted in injury or death to Cannon.

The trial on that charge was then authorized by the judge to proceed.

Selection of the jury panel to hear the case was made this morning after which Judge Jackson told the jurors that the trial will be postponed until Wednesday due to the illness of Prosecutor McGonagle.

The jurors were instructed to report at 9 a. m. on that day.

The jury panel which will hear the case is composed of Glenn Sandell, Clara Jader, Andrew Sundberg, Peter Jacobson, Eino Salmi, Mrs. Joseph Casimir, Peter Semer, Priscilla Dufour, Louise Gregoire, Royce H. Gustafson, Bertha Neumann and Stephen Rabideau.

Scout Council Honors Phalen

Dave Phalen of Nahma, Red Buck District chairman, and two other leaders in Scouting in the Upper Peninsula were presented with Silver Beaver awards in recognition of their service to youth at yesterday's annual dinner meeting of Hiawathaland Council, Boy Scouts of America, yesterday at Munising.

About 150 Scouters and their wives attended the meeting at which Silver Beaver citations were presented by Perry Hatch, Marquette, treasurer of Hiawathaland Council.

Phalen has been active in Scouting for the past 23 years. He is now serving his third year as chairman of Red Buck District, which includes Delta, Schoolcraft and Northern Menominee counties.

Record Of Service

He has served as a member of the Council executive Board since 1949 and has also been serving as Scoutmaster of Troop 421 of Nahma. He is a former district camping committee member and is a recipient of the Scouter's Award which necessitates completion of the three-year training program of Scouting.

Long active in community service, Phalen is secretary of the Nahma township Board of Education and a member of the board of the Delta County Chapter, American Red Cross. He is the Nahma township chairman of the Community Chest, and is employed as superintendent of the American Playground Device Co. of Nahma.

Others who were honored with presentation of Silver Beaver awards were Ford Faulkner of Sault Ste. Marie and Ellsworth Risberg of Iron Mountain.

Scouting Grows
At the annual business meeting of the Hiawathaland Council, Ben Bambenek of Iron Mountain was elected Council president. He will succeed George W. Swenson of Houghton, who served as toastmaster at the dinner program. Swenson reported there are now more boys in the three branches of Scouting — Cubs, Scouts, Explorers—than ever before in the Upper Peninsula.

C. M. Fennell of Chicago was the principal speaker. He described the Scouting program in Japan, where he was sent by the Boy Scouts of America to reactivate the Scouting program there. George Goss of Munising welcomed the delegates to the meeting, and invocation was given by Rev. G. F. Harrington, Munising.

Zerbel Presents Awards
For completing the training requirements of the Boy Scouts of America, the Scoutmasterskey was awarded to Albert Lehto of Hancock, William Gaynor of Houghton, Ed Erickson of Baraga, Les Srnka of Powers and Mrs. Ed Briggs of Iron Mountain.

Demo Women Meet In Rally

"The leadership of the free world is in your hands," Mrs. Margaret Price of Ann Arbor, Democratic national committeewoman, stressed at a meeting of Delta Democratic women workers here Saturday.

Mrs. Price, who has been in charge of all national speakers coming into Michigan, was the principal speaker for the biennial Democratic Women's luncheon, held in the basement of St. Joseph church Saturday afternoon.

Atty. Ruth Dundon of Iron Mountain also was a speaker at the luncheon, sponsored by Delta County Democratic candidates. Each candidate spoke briefly, after introduction by Atty. Wheaton Strom, toastmaster.

Reviews Issues

Mrs. Price stressed the importance of having a candidate with civilian political experience, not a "military man with no experience of problems the average American faces in day to day living."

The opposition candidate has been cared for by the military for 40 years, she charged, inserting the observation that "you might say he is part of the national debt."

The Michigan Democratic committeewoman told her audience of 800 women here that she was concerned that General Eisenhower will be "a puppet in the hands of reactionaries in the Republican party", as evidenced by his embracing the policy of Senator Taft, whom he defeated for the presidential nomination. Senator Taft has consistently opposed the foreign policy Eisenhower won on, she charged.

Mrs. Price also reviewed the Korean problem, foreign policy price control and prosperity.

Women More Active

Stressing that, as Gov. Stevenson said, "Peace is the most important unfinished business of our generation," Mrs. Price pointed out that Korean action was taken "to avoid appeasement, which we have learned is the road to disaster" and emphasize that present foreign policy has the courage "to envision a world at peace."

She declared American people are better off than ever before, noting that corporation profits, farm income and labor wages have doubled, and that there "are now 22 chickens for every chicken in the pot before 1932."

Mrs. Price, who was one of two women to second nominations at the Democratic convention in Chicago this summer, said more women are volunteering to work and participating in the campaign this year than ever before.

Women In Politics

A member of the League of Women Voters, she pointed in an interview out that the league is an excellent opportunity for women to get into political activity.

"Women coming from the league to the party have learned to study issues and have had good training in organization and in conducting meetings," she said.

Mrs. Price also stressed the importance of giving a presidential candidate support in Congress and the need for young leadership in Congress, while speaking in behalf of Sen. Blair Moody, Jr., candidate for Congressman. She also spoke for Governor Williams and other Democratic candidates.

In closing, Mrs. Price declared women are not "second class citizens in the Democratic party", and expressed hope that "given time" a woman will be nominated for vice president.

Hiss Deposition

Attorney Dundon drew tremendous applause with a speech on the "despicable" campaign, marked with "inconsistency, distortions and speeches out of context." She declared President Truman was accused of bringing racial and religious issues into the campaign when he queried if Eisenhower would repudiate Senators Jenner and McCarthy for their stand on the McCarran immigration bill, just as he had discredited McCarran, the Democratic senator who introduced it.

The Iron Mountain attorney, in a fiery speech, also defended Stevenson for his deposition in the Hiss trial, saying that he would have been "a coward and liar" if he had done otherwise.

She also underscored the foundation of equality upon which the U. S. was founded, and stressed that "the measure of the right to rule or eat three meals a day."

Heavy Vote Likely In Tuesday Election

Across the nation voters will go to the polls tomorrow to elect a president, state, congressional, legislative and county officers in what is expected to be the largest outpouring of votes in history.

In Delta County polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m. A record vote is forecast.

Escanaba City Clerk George Harvey today urged voters to cast ballots early in the day and thus avoid the evening rush to the polls.

Docks Set New Volume Records

Another all-time record was set at the local C&NW ore docks last month when for the first time in the history of the docks both the receipts and shipments of ore went over the million-ton mark.

The new record in volume of incoming ore was 1,015,765 tons and the shipments totaled 1,011,339, according to Dock Agent L. A. McMillan.

2nd Time Over Million

It was the second straight month that shipments exceeded one million tons, the first record being set in September 1952 with 1,020,399 tons loaded for shipment on ore carriers.

The October volume was short by just 9,060 tons of repeating the previous month's all-time high.

The new record of receipts here from the mines surpassed by approximately 9,000 tons the previous record set in September, 1943, it was reported by McMillan.

18 Carriers Load

Taking out the peak volume of received ore were 118 carriers, seven more than departed here in September. The average load taken out by the 118 carriers was 8,571 tons.

McMillan explained that more boats took out less ore in October because the carriers could load only intermediate drafts, due to a standard procedure followed at this time of the fall. Weather conditions and a greater possibility of lake storms dictate the diminished loads for the vessels. Beginning Nov. 1, the boats will carry even less ore as the regulation on winter drafts goes into effect, McMillan said.

Tuesday Is The Day Of Decision; Be Sure You Cast Your Ballot

TOMORROW is the day of election. It is election day, 1952, and it is your chance to play your part in the American democracy. You can do that by voting. It is your responsibility and your obligation as a citizen to vote.

This year the biggest campaign to get out a record vote has been conducted and the prospects for a tremendous vote are bright. That is as it should be because democracy can work efficiently only when all of the people vote.

In many ways this is one of the most important elections in the nation's history. The results of the election Tuesday will determine which political party will dominate the American governmental scene for the next four years. They are certain to be four crucial years.

Don't let anything prevent you from voting tomorrow. Vote early if you can. But vote! For those who cannot vote early, the polls will remain open to eight o'clock at night. Everyone in line by that hour will be permitted to vote, no matter how long it takes to get them through the polls.

This important election covers a wide field—from national offices to state offices to county offices. And in addition there will be a special ballot for proposals to amend the state constitution.

It has long been an ironical paradox that the United States, which boast of the most individual freedom and opportunities for its citizens, also has produced among the poorest of the voting percentages. In 1948 only half of the eligible voters in America actually went to the polls. Contrasted to this poor record is the amazing voting turnout in European countries.

We who have something to protect do the poorest job of protecting our rights through the medium of the ballot box.

Let it not also be so. Vote tomorrow... and be sure your friends vote, too.

Don't Be Fooled By Glib Talk; Vote No On 2; Vote Yes On 3

VOTE No on Amendment No. 2.

Vote Yes on Amendment No. 3. The amendment proposals on the special ballot in the election tomorrow are of tremendous concern and utmost importance to the people of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Amendment No. 2 is a proposal to center control of both branches of the Michigan legislature in the four populous counties of the state. The remaining 79 counties will be orphans, subject to the control and domination of the industrial counties of Michigan.

The Upper Peninsula will seriously lose representation in the Michigan legislature if Proposal No. 2 is enacted. Be sure to vote the two-letter word "No" on Amendment No. 2.

Proposal No. 3 more equitably protects the interests of the Upper Peninsula because it provides that the Senate will be reapportioned on the basis of area while the House is reapportioned on the basis of population.

This is the way the United States Congress is now balanced and, of course, it is the fair way to do it.

Vote the three letter word "Yes" for Amendment No. 3.

This is not a partisan, political issue, every Upper Peninsula resident, regardless of political affiliation, should vote No on Amendment No. 2, Yes on Amendment No. 3. Only in this way will be the best interest of the Upper Peninsula be served.

Don't be fooled by glib talk. You will

The Doctor Says... Examine for Pinworms If Children Are Reinfected

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A mother who signs herself "Distracted" says that for the fourth time in two years she is treating her children for pinworms. In her letter she asks three questions concerning this common condition among youngsters.

First, she asks, "Why do the children continue to have pinworms? I thought perhaps the whole family should be treated, but my husband refuses to cooperate." Second, she asks, "Is the children's diet in any way responsible?" And finally, she asks if there is any other way besides boiling to treat the bedclothing, towels and washcloths, and personal clothing of the youngsters.

If the information given by "Distracted" is correct, her children have been cured of pinworms on several occasions, but have been reinfected. This unfortunately is a common experience, and one can only guess as to whether the reinfestation came from within the family or from outside.

Under such circumstances, however, all the members of the family should be examined for pinworms, including the husband, even though he has no symptoms. The chances of reinfestation are so great that in addition to hygienic measures, everyone with whom the children are likely to come in contact and thus become reinfected should be examined and given treatment if they are found to have these parasites.

In answer to the second question, it can be said that the diet is not responsible for reinfestation with pinworms unless somehow or other pinworms are contaminating the food, and this could only occur if someone handling the food already had the worms.

This mother, like many others, has evidently been extremely careful in handling and serving food and in instructing her children in hygienic measures. The fact that she has boiled the washing so carefully and still the children have become reinfected, suggests the cause of reinfestation lies elsewhere.

WASH CLOTHING CAREFULLY

The parasites are rather delicate and die fairly easily outside the human body, so that it would probably be quite safe merely to wash the clothing carefully in hot water, then make sure that it is thoroughly dry.

Unfortunately, such experiences as that described are by no means unusual and about the only suggestion one can make is that still further efforts be made to identify all possible carriers of pinworms so that they, too, can be treated and will not serve as a source of future trouble.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The Democrats have tried to keep it inside the family, but bickering and backbiting have broken out among Stevenson's top lieutenants.

Chief source of trouble has been the Governor's administrative assistant, ex-Professor Carl McGowan, who has planted himself as a roadblock in the way of anyone wanting to see Stevenson.

Even Democratic National Chairman Steve Mitchell discovered that, in at least three cases, important messages to the Governor never got past McGowan's desk. Stevenson's campaign manager, Wilson Wyatt, also had the same trouble when absent. His messages frequently were blocked by McGowan.

The two White House assistants attached to Stevenson's headquarters, Dave Bell and Clayton Fritchey, have also had trouble getting past McGowan. In fact, the situation has become so heated that Wyatt fumes at the mention of McGowan's name.

Among other things, McGowan kept the details of Stevenson's whistle-stop tour from the Governor, because McGowan was opposed to Stevenson's taking that kind of trip. Even though already overruled, and though Stevenson had agreed to make a whistle-stop swing through the east, McGowan stubbornly sat on the train schedules which Mitchell sent for Stevenson's OK. As a result, the whole train trip was almost upset.

In case Stevenson is elected, it looks as if McGowan is trying to set himself up as another Matt Connelly, self-appointed head of a palace guard to protect the President for any ideas except his own.

MACARTHUR AND EISENHOWER

General Eisenhower's "I will go to Korea" statement unquestionably won votes for the GOP, though it did just the opposite with certain top-ranking general who has spent some time in Korea himself—namely General MacArthur.

When MacArthur heard the Eisenhower promise, he grumbled: "Why doesn't he come see me? I can tell him all about Korea without taking a trip over there."

MacArthur's reaction didn't help the efforts made by Herbert Hoover and other mutual friends of the two generals to bring them together.

NIXON'S MAID

American newspapers haven't said anything about it, but Swedish papers have been playing up the story of Senator Nixon's Swedish maid who entered the United States on a diplomatic passport and is now working in his Washington house.

She is Ruth Anna Elisabeth Jonsson, who came to this country to work for the assistant military attache of the Swedish Embassy, on a stipulation that she not work for anyone save Swedish diplomats, and that she would return to Sweden after her job ended. Last summer, however, when her job did end, she went to work for Senator Nixon.

The Swedish embassy notified the State Department, belatedly, that she had gone to work for Nixon and was thereby subject to deportation following this, the Justice Department interviewed Miss Jonsson and sent a report to Attorney General McGranery. McGranery decided to do nothing. It was indicated at the Justice Department that he did not want to tangle with Senator Nixon by deporting the lady.

Since then, Miss Jonsson has been telling other maids working for Swedish diplomats that she makes only $70 a month, has to work from early in the morning until late, with only one day off a week. Though she would like to leave, she says that as long as she is working for a senator she feels she will not be deported.

Following publication of some of these facts in the Swedish newspapers, the Justice Department has interviewed Miss Jonsson a second time. This time she came to the Justice Department accompanied by one of Nixon's secretaries, who remained present while Miss Jonsson was being interviewed—an unusual procedure. The Justice Department has now lifted Miss Jonsson's passport, but still has not decided what to do about deporting her. Justice Department officials indicated they did not want to make the matter a political issue, but admitted that any other alien illegally working in the United States would be deported immediately.

Note—Senator Nixon has favored restricting immigration as under the McCarran Act.

GOP SPLIT NETWORK

Southern audiences didn't know it, but Ike used a split network on CBS when he appeared with a group of governors the other night. Three Democratic governors—Byrnes of South Carolina, Shivers of Texas, and Kennan of Louisiana—were on the network to the South only; while 25 Republican governors were on the Northern TV network.

What the South didn't hear was GOP Governor's McKeldin's statement: "The first thing I did as governor of Maryland was to abolish the Jim Crow car."

Other Northern governors emphasized civil rights for the benefit of Northern Negroes, while the South listened to Byrnes, Shivers and Kennan.

"We're Absolutely Sure---That We're Not Sure"

Unification Is Korean Casualty As Pentagon Continues Fighting

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There's growing evidence that the first major casualty of the Korean war to be suffered in the Pentagon is the spirit of unification.

Latest evidence of unification headaches was bitter exchange between Marine Corps Commandant Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., and the Air Force over Shepherd's charge that Air Force "Operation Strangle" in Korea is a "fizzle."

Most Pentagon officials declare the enthusiasm for unification began to wane at the beginning of the Korean fighting. Today, it is believed, bitterness among Army, Navy and Air Force brass is worse than it was during the big fight over the B-36 bomber.

When Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett steps out he will submit a report on the status of unification. The question is whether he will tag the casualty "killed in action," "wounded," or just "missing."

The problem of how to get the three complex services running most economically and efficiently under a unified set-up is considered the toughest administrative task in town. It killed James Forrestal, the first man to try. It was the political death of his successor, Louis Johnson.

General Marshall, the third man to take the job, ignored the special problems of unification in the bigger effort to expand the services. But since taking over from him, Lovett has had a staggering burden to bear trying to keep the three services working together in a semblance of harmony. Most close observers agree that only Lovett's tremendous ability has kept the Pentagon from exploding at the top.

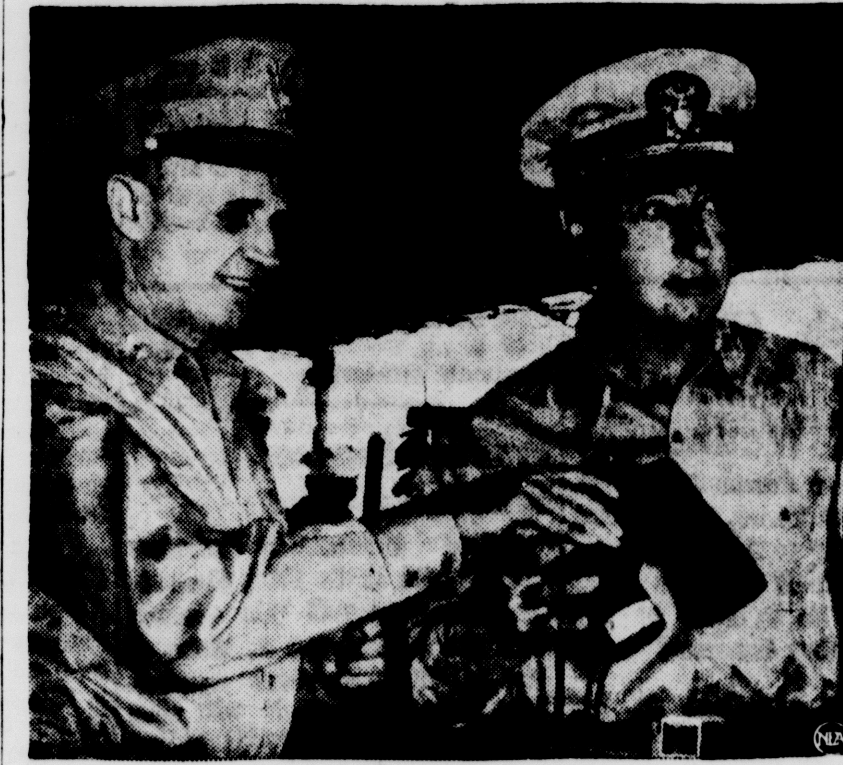

The paradox of unification is that it is working best outside of Washington. Marine and Navy pilots daily give Army ground units close support in Korea. The whole show there is run by an Army commander, Air Force and Navy pilots speak pleasantly and actually cooperate when it is necessary. And the system of unified commands outside the country is working.

There are other tremendous gains of unification such as the Military Sea Transport Service, which has cut the cost of troop and cargo moving in many cases below that of private shipping lines. Unified budgetary procedures, personnel handling and purchasing are other noteworthy accomplishments.

However, the trouble begins over the resentment against the limitations and controls of unification among the top brass. They used to be boss of their own bailiwick. Today they can't make a major decision without its first being coordinated through the Department of Defense.

Basically the problem is money, funds or lack of them, control every activity of the services. At the heart of the present bitterness in the Army and Navy is the fact that the Air Force is getting about twice as big a cut out of the budget as either of the other services.

Unfortunately this bitterness at the top threatens all of the gains of unification and sabotages continued progress. Among top observers recommending a basic change in unification is Dr. Vannevar Bush. He says:

UNIFICATION'S PARADOX is that while it threatens to blow the roof off the Pentagon, it's working best outside Washington. Korea is a top example, where Rear Adm. J. H. Doyle, amphibious force commander, swaps glasses with Gen. Hobart Gay (left), commanding general of the 1st Cavalry Division during landing.

"The Joint Chiefs of Staff fail to bring well considered resolutions to our most serious military problems. It dissipates its energies on the inconsequential."

"Our senior planning body is now made up of the commanding officers of the services. They are overburdened. And it is almost impossible for them to keep their staff and command functions separate in their minds."

It is believed that Lovett and others agree with Bush's idea and prefer a JCS whose members have no other duties and who would be sort of elder military statesmen. Lovett points out the present unification machinery is a "compromise between proponents of no merger and complete merger, and of every shade of opinion between those two extremes."

Considered one of the healthiest signs in the Pentagon for the case of unification is the almost complete absence of anyone today who seriously claims the idea should be scrapped. Even the most violent opponents of unification in the Navy when it was being considered by Congress now admit that it would not make sense to go back to what the country had before.

As one admiral puts it: "Unification is here to stay. And the sooner we accept that fact and learn to live with it better the better it will be for the defense of the nation."

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THIEVES AT WORK—Shoplifting may be a more polite word for it, but it is still stealing—and he who steals is a thief.

Shoplifters usually have one thing in common: They seldom consider their activities as stealing but like to say that they are victims of kleptomania.

"I saw it and I just couldn't resist taking it," they tell the store manager. And invariably they hasten to add, "I'm glad to pay for it."

Actually there are few of us who, at some time or other, have not had the opportunity and (if it must be confessed) the desire to do a little shoplifting.

The merchandise is spread so invitingly, the clerk is busy with another customer, and no one—just no one—is watching. Except your conscience, of course.

THREE REASONS—Retailers everywhere put the blame for the increase in shoplifting mainly on three developments, according to a national survey conducted by Business Week magazine.

They are: 1—The growth of self-service selling; 2—The rising cost of living; and 3—The peculiar psychological temper of our times.

There is hardly any disagreement that self-service and open displays play into the pilferer's hand. There, as the whodunit writer puts it, is the opportunity. The motive is more complex.

NOT ALL POOR—Although a considerable number of shoplifters are stealing to help clothe and feed the family or themselves, the majority are prosperous enough not to have to stoop to thievery.

Fact is that those who keep an eye out for shoplifters scan the milk coat wearers as well as the lady in cheap cloth.

Not unusual is the man of wealth who, confronted by the displays in the better stores, is unable to resist temptation. Sometimes for the sake of the customer's trade the petty pilferings are overlooked.

A story is told of one smart shop in the city where the clerks had a standing order to add to the gentleman's account all of the articles they saw him lift. It ran into a considerable sum—but he never complained.

YOUTH AND AGE—Despite notions to the contrary, most of the shoplifting is not done by children—although the dime stores do have their troubles with the youngsters.

Older persons, some living in genteel poverty, begin shoplifting in a small way. Soon they become bolder, and inevitably they are caught.

Shopping bags, big coats, and rush crowds combine to give the pilferer his opportunity. A quick movement of the hand and the merchandise has "disappeared"—or so the shoplifter hopes.

WATCHFUL STAFF—Retailers are more than ever concerned about losses by theft because their profits are already on a downward trend—and every loss is felt. Stores are working out their problems according to their own program, says Business Week.

A lot of them are doing it with mirrors, trick one-way windows that let watchers see without being seen. Some chain stores have a staff of "trouble-shooters" who move in when shoplifting gets out of hand.

Other stores are stepping up employee training, urging alertness, and informing the help what and who to watch for.

Among the anti-shoplifter devices is to set up the goods on display in symmetrical patterns so that when an item is missing it is easily spotted. Supermarkets keep cigarettes safe at the checkout counter. Putting nylons in long tubes makes them less easy to conceal.

Altogether the stores are out to halt shoplifting by any and every means at their disposal. They even employ strangers to pilfer as a test of the store's defenses. They are out to prove that shoplifting—like crime—doesn't pay.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

Tomorrow is Election Day, the day when the qualified voters of the United States go to the polls and cast their ballots for the candidates of their choice. So let's take a quick look at those words candidate, poll, vote, and ballot.

The candidate, as I have previously said, is the person running for office who, if we took the word in its original sense, would have you believe that he is spotlessly honest. In ancient Rome he was called candidatus because he was "clothed in white," the literal meaning of the word, to indicate the purity and stainlessness of his character.

When we go to the polls we go, literally not to have our heads examined, but to have our heads counted. Poll, in former days, was the term for "head," a term that we still use in speaking of a poll-tax, a tax levied on persons rather than property. The name is now generally transferred from the heads that were counted to the place where the counting occurs.

or prayer, coming from Latin votum of such or prayer, coming from Latin votum of such meaning. In Scottish use before the seventeenth century, those were the general senses of the word, and they remained the general senses when vote was then introduced into England. But "wish" gradually came to mean the general wish of a group, the collective opinion, and thus it was gradually further extended to include the right or privilege of expressing an opinion, the right of participating in political government, or the formal expression of such privilege.

The ballot is now the registering of one's vote, usually either by check-mark on a printed form or by means of levers on a voting machine. But the term itself, from Italian ballotta, originally meant nothing more than "little ball." However, in Venice the judges in any trial adopted the custom of dropping either of two little balls, one colored and one white, into an urn to indicate secretly their decision. From this custom the term ballot has spread to include any form of secret voting.

Do-It-Yourself Trend Is Pushed By Makers Of Many New Gadgets

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—To the bills, men, they're after us. "They" are the nation's hardware manufacturers, who are trying to popularize a do-it-yourself trend among the nation's house-husbands.

At the National Hardware Show here, booth after booth was loaded with subversive devices, designed to turn the American male into a combination carpenter-electrician-plumber, whether he wants to be turned or not. There's not an easy chair in the joint.

But there are tools and machines, ranging from old-fashioned screw drivers to entire home workshops, which will do everything from hanging pictures to building houses. We haven't got a chance.

There's one electric sander, as an example, that's a triple-threat assault on our laziness. "It sands, polishes and massages," says the sign. We not only have to be a repair man, then, but they're trying to make us into a masseur-it-yourself.

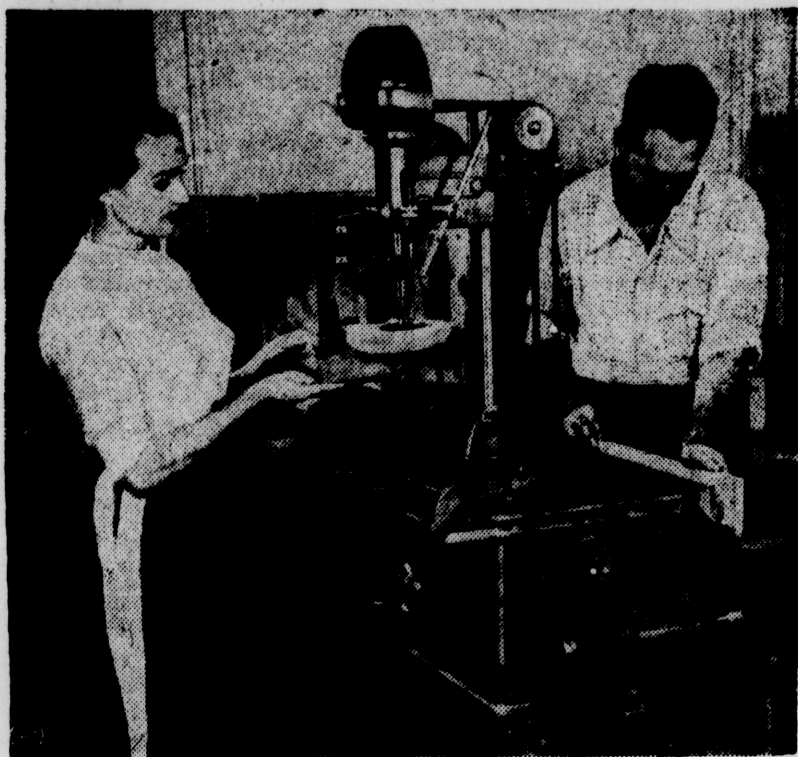

Another device is a torch which aims to replace the good old blowtorch. It's a lightweight cylinder of propane gas, with a nozzle. You can light it with a match, it'll burn for at least 16 hours, then you throw the cylinder away and get a new one.

This torch is supposed to be just the thing for the man who wants to do any of the following: tinning, burning paint, fitting pipes, laying tile, doing body and fender work, soldering jewelry, splicing cable softening old putty. Nothing like a peaceful evening at home, softening old putty.

There's an electric jig saw that's billed as "safe for children to use." If you have a six-year-old that feels a hankering to cut asphalt tiles, this is the very thing.

More and more chores can be done by you, unfortunately. A new canned compressed air bomb, like the ones with whipped cream and insect killers, can shampoo and dye rugs in one operation. It comes in five colors. After a hard day at the office, you can spend your evening relaxing over a wet rug.

Or you can re-cover bicycle

FAMILY ACT is the idea of this new multi-purpose power tool for home workshops. While pop uses the jointer to build a cabinet, mom's using the drill press to shine the silver.

seats, with the help of a new kit. That is if you feel like re-covering bicycle seats. All sorts of snazzy coverings, too, including one in leopard skin. Now your child can have the flashiest seat on the block.

One kind manufacturer has taken pity on us men, and especially on our often-battered thumbs. A new type of picture hook uses gummed tape, with a hook attached. You moisten it, apply one to the wall and one to the back of the picture, and the job's done. They'll support 15 pounds and will work on glass, tile and metal as well as wood and plaster.

Another industrial Good Samaritan has produced a solder in the form of tape. You wrap it around the joint you want to join, then just apply heat from a soldering iron or even a candle.

To make all these do-it-yourself appliances nice and homey, many of the manufacturers are turning the tools out in eye-catching styles. Even some of the electric sprayers and drills now come in all colors. Some of the items are neatly packaged, some newly streamlined, some chrome-plated.

NEW TORCH for home use is fueled by disposable tank.

And don't think, fellows, that Christmas will bring any respite. If one tool maker, has his way, under the tree you'll find a lovely Christmas gift box. It's nicely wrapped in red ribbon, too, and contains the very thing you've always wanted — four assorted chisels.

Top Screen Writer Also Mother Of Six

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Career-minded wives can take heart from the story of Dorothy Kingsley. A top screen writer, she is also the mother of six children.

What's more, she broke into the business as a housewife with three children. It's amazing enough for a professional writer to get a break in this fiercely competitive field.

Persistence Wins

"The secret?" said the writer, an attractive blonde. "Persistence and prayer."

Miss Kingsley, who has written the majority of Esther Williams' pictures during a nine-year career at MGM, said she got the writing bug while she was a housewife in Detroit. She listened to comedy shows on the radio and was convinced that she could write lines that were as funny.

"I showed some of the scripts to a friend of ours, Bob Scripps, editor of the Detroit News," she said. He thought they were good and suggested I should do something about them. So I did. I flew to Hollywood to look for a job."

Miss Kingsley looked up an agent in the phone book and arranged an interview. The agent seemed impressed with her work and agreed to handle her. With high hopes, she returned to Detroit and sold the family belongings to buy a car. With husband and three children, she toured back to Hollywood.

She arrived to find the agent had gone out of business!

Gags For McCarthy

After pounding on doors fruitlessly, she finally got in to see the producer of the Bob Hope show. He liked her work, but Hope already had a dozen writers, and gag women were unheard of in the radio industry. So the producer put her under personal contract and submitted her jokes to Hope himself.

"He was going to reveal my identity after 13 weeks and get me a regular job on the show," she recalled. "At the end of that time, I learned he had suffered a nervous collapse. No one else in the office knew me."

Again she pounded the pavement. She was pursuing the want ads in desperation when she found a notice seeking gag writers. The advertiser turned out to be Edgar Bergen. He picked her from 13 applicants and she wrote Charlie McCarthy gags for two years.

Then she turned to the more lucrative field of screen writing. She interested producer Arthur Freed in her writing ability and landed her MGM job. Now she draws the top musical jobs, her current one being "Kiss Me Kate."

Outcome Uncertain In State-By-State Political Summary

By The Associated Press

Democratic and Republican leaders across the nation crossed their fingers today, spoke hopefully of victory tomorrow for their candidates, and waited for the voters to settle the big questions of 1952.

Will the next president be Republican candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower, or will he be Democratic nominee Adlai E. Stevenson?

And will the next Congress be Democratic or Republican?

Over the final week end of the campaign, leaders of both parties in every state, with few exceptions, predicted victories in their states for their candidates.

Both Sides Hopeful

But the week end reports, reflecting a feeling of uncertainty.

This was the state-by-state picture:

Alabama — Democrats expect to win. Anti-administration Democrats, Republicans trying hard for first victory since 1872.

Arizona — Republicans making down-to-the-wire drive to hold on to governorship and capture at least a U. S. Senate seat in usually Democratic Arizona.

Arkansas — Republican National Committeeman Wallace Townsend admits only "a faint outside hope" Eisenhower will carry state.

California — State in doubtful column with its 32 electoral votes. Republicans intensified campaign in the past week with indications of strong October swing to Stevenson.

Campaign Closes; Verdict Up To Us

of 1940, and this one of the unknown quantities that has political prognosticators puzzled.

Forecasts of fair and mild weather over most of the nation tomorrow should help raise the turnout.

Free-for-all Slugfest

Eisenhower and Stevenson, reluctant prospects for the nation's highest office last spring, proved to be two of the "fightingest" candidates in decades once the battle was joined.

Sparing lightly at first, like two boxers feeling each other out, they gradually stepped up the tempo until the campaign took on the aspects of a free-for-all slugfest, with Truman and Taft, Nixon and Sparkman, McCarthy and Morse, Dewey and Barkley and all the other partisans flailing away around them.

Korea, communism and corruption in government, peace and prosperity were the dominant issues.

"You never had it so good — don't let them take it away from you," said the Democrats.

"It's time for a change—20 years is too long for one party to stay in power," said the Republicans.

Trumanism, taxes, the cost of living, foreign policy and prosperity, farm prices, the Taft-Hartley Act and civil rights all were battered around in the two months of strenuous whistle-stopping and aerial electioneering.

Harry Enjoyed It

Both presidential candidates were accused of being "captives," and both hotly denied it. Eisenhower was pictured by opposition speakers as the "captive" of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and the Republican "Old Guard." Stevenson was depicted as the "captive" of President Truman's "Fair Deal" regime.

Harry S. Truman, the first President who wasn't seeking reelection since Calvin Coolidge did not choose to run in 1928, campaigned just as hard for the Democratic ticket as he was on it.

He obviously enjoyed it, telling one of his staff whistle-stop speeches: "I intend to give it up."

Three Convicts Shot In Ohio Prison Riot

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Highway patrolmen shot and killed one of 1,600 rioting convicts in Ohio Penitentiary today and a few minutes later a National Guard company armed with rifles and machine guns marched inside the walls.

About 100 guardsmen in full field equipment entered the southwest truck gate to reinforce 21 state patrolmen who had been holding the convicts at bay with a criss-cross shotgun barrage down the corridors of four battered cell blocks.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis today said 2 more Ohio Penitentiary convicts were shot by guards today in the

Five Children Perish In Fire

(By The Associated Press)

Five children who died in a home fire were among an approximate score persons killed in violence in Michigan over the weekend.

Motor traffic killed at least 12 persons. A Muskegon township boy lost his life in a cave-in.

In addition, three fishermen were missing and believed drowned.

The home fire, at Lakeland, took the lives of three daughters and two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Richard. The children were Rose, seven months; Dorothy 2; Paul, 4; Edward, 6; and Marie, 7.

The parents told police they put the children to bed and had gone to a nearby tavern to bring home some beer when the fire broke out. Lakeland is near Pinckney in Livingston County.

Authorities said they suspected the blaze started from an overheated stove pipe that went through the ceiling.

Firemen had to forcibly prevent parents entering the home when they returned. Richard's wife Dorothy, cut her arm breaking a window before she was pulled back. The wound required 30 stitches.

The father is 31, the mother, 29. The three men who vanished after setting out to spear whitefish in Crystal Lake, near Frankfort, were William Crawford, 26, of Beulah; Richard Wier, 30, of Benzonia; and Frank Morrill, 29, of Beulah.

The three set out Saturday at midnight, opening of the whitefish spearing season. When they hadn't returned at 4:30 a. m., their wives sounded an alarm. An all Sunday search failed to reveal any trace of their metal boat except the oars which were found washed ashore.

Korean War And Time For Change Election Issues

he stirred up a hornet's nest in Dixie. Tremendous crowds gave his campaign a lift there and he might get a payoff tomorrow, with both sides conceding the possibility he might carry Virginia and Florida.

The Republican campaign still was limping along, however, until Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio returned from his Canadian vacation to meet with the general at Morningside Heights in New York and come out of the conference with a statement of views to which he said Eisenhower subscribed.

That meeting satisfied the pro-Taft elements of the GOP, which had been inclined to sit on their hands. They pitched in and worked.

But it also gave Stevenson some of what his followers believe was his best ammunition. Eisenhower's endorsement of the re-election bids of Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana, combined with the Taft agreement, was attacked by Stevenson as proof that the Republican Old Guard had taken over the nominee.

Nixon Weathers Attack

The Democratic candidate charged this Old Guard with isolationism and, what was more important, from his standpoint, with opposition to all of the proposals he said had brought prosperity to the country.

While all of this was going on, the Republican's got a shattering blow in the disclosure that their vice-presidential nominee, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, had been accepting money from a privately-raised $18,000 expense fund.

But they seemed to have turned the whole thing to their advantage with Nixon's dramatic television recital of his financial operations and Eisenhower's welcoming of the fearful California senator back into the fold at Whittier, W. Va.

Stevenson has managed nothing quite so dramatic with the possible exception of his flight last week from his campaign train to Chester, Ill., to direct an ultimatum which brought an abrupt end to a prison riot.

Governors Switch

The Democratic nominee's backers leaped upon this as indicating Stevenson's ability to act quickly in an emergency, as a sign of his ability to make firm decisions and as a general indication of his worthiness as an executive.

The campaign has seen much crossing of party lines based primarily on the anti-Truman sentiment in the South. G. W. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Allan Shivers of Texas and Robert F. Kennedy of Louisiana all have declared for Eisenhower. Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia announced he couldn't support Stevenson because he said the nominee was committed to continue "Trumanism."

On the other side, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon said he was leaving the Republican party to back Stevenson, principally because Eisenhower was embracing Taft policies. There has been much switching of prominent independents toward the Democratic candidate in recent weeks.

Truman In Spotlight

Months ago politicians were saying that the man who got the independent vote would win. If Eisenhower had it in July, Stevenson seemed to be splitting it in October. Both men have been getting tremendous crowds at the campaign's offices. Eisenhower always had them, due perhaps in part to his reputation as a war hero.

As they have gone along, the general seemed to have grown to enjoy his campaigning. To Stevenson it has been palpably a necessary ordeal. Eisenhower has warmth, Stevenson reserve. Yet the Democratic nominee can make a crowd listen intently where the Republican candidate awakes no such concentration on the words he says.

To the press, radio and television men it has been one of the most difficult of campaigns to cover. President Truman's barnstorming trips have attracted almost as much attention as those of either of the major candidates. Because of his TV appearance, Nixon has drawn far greater crowds than usually turn out for vice presidential candidates.

Eisenhower Gives His Final Speech In Boston Tonight

report of the joint chiefs, namely in 1948.

Speech At 10 P. M.

In returning to New England, Eisenhower is completing a circle. Nearly eight months ago, while he was still in Europe, his backers entered him in the nation's first primary election in New Hampshire, March 11. He won it, defeating his great rival Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Since then, he has criss-crossed the country, covering well over 50,000 miles. He delivered in the neighborhood of 300 speeches.

The climax of that long and increasingly bitter struggle comes in Boston tonight.

Eisenhower prepared to motorcade through the neck of the city during the day. At 10 p. m. (EST) he will make his last major address in a rally in the Boston Garden Auditorium. The speech will be televised and broadcast by radio (NBC and ABC).

At 11 p. m., he takes part in an hour-long TV and radio presentation. (NBC, ABC, CBS and Dumont television; NBC, ABC, CBS and MBS radio.)

His managers said the programs would cost in the neighborhood of $250,000.

He will leave for New York after the presentations, spending election day in his residence at Columbia University and election night at his headquarters in the Commodore Hotel.

His running mate, Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, planned to join him in Boston today.

Michigan Expects Nip-And-Tuck Race

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's 1952 political campaign is all over but the shouting—but there's plenty of shouting still going on.

On the home front, Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the Democrat, and Fred M. Alger Jr., the Republican adversary, Cong. Charles E. Potter raised their voices for one last cry before the campaign ends officially tonight and election day dawns tomorrow.

The air and the air waves today and tonight were to be filled with the 11th-hour charges and protestations of the candidates. Most of the top state aspirants were concentrating in Wayne County where the battle could easily be won or lost.

When the polls open tomorrow at 7 a. m. they're expected to draw a record of 2,500,000 votes—and it easily could be more in view of the uncounted but admittedly heavy registration.

No one knows what that record turnout will do to the usual voting pattern in Michigan, but there is no indication the state will desert its usual role of a nip-and-tuck vote.

Michigan's 20 presidential electoral votes may go to Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower or Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson by a hair—and parts of the state ticket may be decided by an equally small margin.

For this is the state which went to Dewey over Truman by 1.67 per cent in 1948, to Roosevelt over Dewey by 1.01 per cent in 1944, to Willkie over Roosevelt by .033 per cent in 1940.

And this is the state which required an unprecedented recount to settle the governorship in 1950 when the official count showed Williams the winner by 1,154 votes.

New Congress Can Make Or Break Next President

presidency wins control of Congress.

The Democrats have a tactical edge in the Senate in that they hold 35 of the seats not at stake this year, and five of the 14 Democrats running this year are from Southern states and are almost certain to win. Four other Democrats are running in border states or states traditionally Democratic.

Counting their holdovers, Democrats figure they have a hard core of 44 seats to start with, and need only five victories in the remaining 26 contests to clinch control.

While Democrats privately admit they may lose several seats they now hold, they claim excellent chances to win seats now held by Republicans in Missouri, Washington, Montana, Indiana, Delaware, Utah and Massachusetts. They give themselves a fighting chance to take a GOP seat in Wisconsin.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today despite evidence of profit-taking in some key areas.

Gains and losses spread out over a range of around a point either way with the upside far more crowded.

Prices started higher at the opening and continued the upward trend for some time. In the second hour the pace slowed, and profit-taking apparently cut in on railroads and motors. Chrysler, which gained 2 1/2 Friday, was off a small fraction today.

Higher stocks included Santa Fe, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Standard Oil N. J., American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, National Industries, United Aircraft, and Montgomery Ward.

Why Wake Island Was Smashed By Typhoon

WASHINGTON.—Few rampages of Nature match the Pacific typhoon. Yet the recent howling destruction at Wake Island was born simply of air caught in the doldrums, moisture, and a twist to get the engine of terror started.

Typhoons are the Asiatic equivalent of the Atlantic's hurricanes, the National Geographic Society says. Fortunately, only in a few places in the world are found the factors that produce these beserk whirling winds—in the Caribbean area, the southwest Pacific, and the Indian Ocean between Africa and Australia.

All the great storms of these regions have almost similar characteristics, but they go by different names. In the western Atlantic they are hurricanes; Australians sometimes call them "willy-willies; in the Bay of Bengal, they are cyclones.

The word "typhoon" is believed to have come from the Chinese "tai fung," meaning great wind, or the Arabic "tufan," a tempest. Since the 13th century, when typhoons twice stopped Mongols from crossing the Sea of Japan, the Japanese have called it "kamikaze," the divine kind.

Whirlpool of Wind
How does a typhoon—known on U. S. wartime weather charts by names such as "Louise"—get started? Its birthplace is the zone of warm, moist, nearly motionless air near the Equator known as the doldrums.

At some point over this breeding place of cyclonic storms the muggy air begins to rise, expands and cools, and drops its moisture as rain. Barometers will be lower there than in surrounding regions. This lower pressure and the rise of air from the center brings cooler winds rushing in from all directions.

The earth's eastward rotation deflects this in-rushing air, and sets up a great swirl. North of the Equator, the spin is always counter-clockwise; in southern latitudes, clockwise.

Once begun, the vast doughnut of air whirls faster and faster.

Eventually the whirlpooling winds can attain speeds of 150 miles an hour or more, reaching out from a quiet stormcenter, or "eye", two, three or even five hundred miles across. The entire cone is pushed gently on its way by differences in barometric pressure along its path.

Vertical "Eye"
In the exact center, the air seems calm, although it is rising. Skies are blue, and the sea extremely choppy. Then, as the storm moves on, wind and driving rain roar in from the opposite direction.

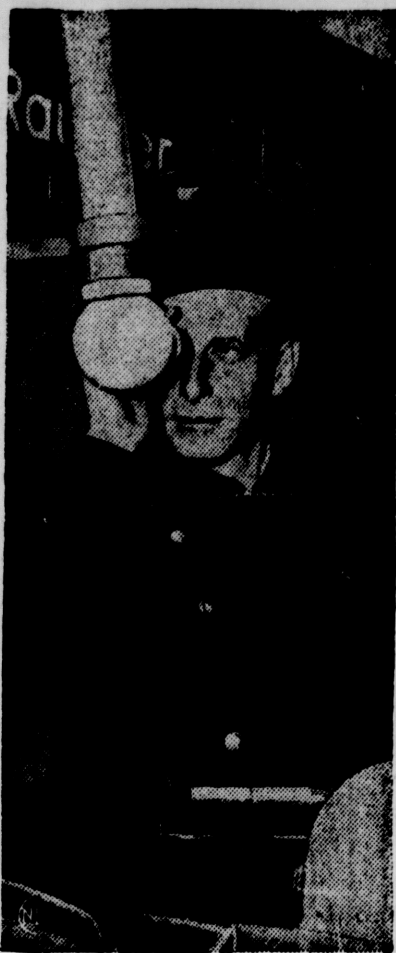

The doldrums are seldom directly over the Equator, but follow the sun north or south with the seasons. Only when this belt of calm, sultry air gets about a dozen degrees from the Equator is the rotational twist of the earth strong enough to "spin" a typhoon. Farther than 25 degrees from the Equator the necessary amount of heat is lacking.

Mountainous seas and rearing tides accompany the great winds, and typhoons bring almost unbelievable rainfall. In the Philippines, directly in the path of Pacific typhoons, a storm in 1906 dumped 88 inches of water in four days on Baguio, the summer capital. That record amount represents more than twice the average rainfall for an entire year in the eastern United States.

In December of 1944, a typhoon east of the Philippines capsized three American destroyers and numerous smaller ships, writing a 500-man casualty list. The following June, another typhoon scattered battleships and aircraft carriers and tore the bow from a heavy cruiser.

LAUGHING DEATH
The epic poet of ancient Greece, Homer, described sinister laughter as sardonic because a herb grown on Sardinia was reputed to cause death by laughter.

Some 5,000 Indian ruins exist in Mexico, says the National Geographic Society. Most have never been explored.

Year-End Bonus Up To $40 Allowed In Wage Regulations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employers may pay their employees a year-end bonus of up to $40 apiece without violating any government wage regulation, says Economic Stabilizer Rager L. Putnam.

Putnam issued his ruling yesterday after receiving a recommendation from the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB). He said such bonus payments will not be charged against any anti-inflation pay regulations.

Blue Ribbon Couple Honored At Fair

IGNACIO, Colo. (AP) — Bob Richards, 58, gets around on crutches and has no farm help to speak of, yet he managed to win a flock of blue ribbons recently at the annual Ute Indian farm fair.

Supt. Elbert J. Floyd of the Consolidated Ute agency says Richards is "just about the best farmer in the area." Richards won first prizes for sheaf and threshed oats, alfalfa, watermelons, two kinds of squash, and muskmelons. His potatoes, beets and tomatoes won lesser awards.

He also had found time to make beaded gauntlets and a buckskin vest which won blue ribbons. Mrs. Richards was doing fine, too—seven blue ribbons in the canned goods and food preservation competition.

Hunger Strike Ended At Oregon Prison

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—A 29-hour hunger strike by 16 hardened convicts in the Oregon State Penitentiary ended last night after prison officials threatened to use force to restore order.

The convicts, all in a segregation unit, were exercising in the corridor of their cell block Thursday when they began their hunger strike to protest being served macaroni and cheese as a substitute for potatoes. They refused to re-enter their cells and had been milling around the corridor.

PREPARE TO DIVE?—No, just the opposite. Passengers aboard jam-packed buses in Hamburg, Germany, will no longer have to dive for the exit. Bus conductors, as the one seen above, will be able to eye the exit through a periscope, until all passengers clear the doors.

THEY TRIED TO HAND DELTA COUNTY A 31% INCREASE IN TAXES!!

The fight to defeat reapportionment Proposal No. 2 is part and parcel of the battle to hand Delta County property owners a big increase in taxes. The huge corporations battling Proposal No. 2 are—in sly ways—also demanding an increase in property taxes. Last year they rammed through the Legislature tax bills which—had they not been vetoed—would have funneled school revenues into the state treasury. You would have had to make up the loss to the schools. The attempted 20% gouging of state aid to schools would have taken $236,664 in revenues away from Delta County and increased our tax responsibility by just this amount. THAT'S AN INCREASE OF 31 PER CENT. They'll try it again next session. If they succeed, Delta County residents stand to lose nearly a quarter of a million dollars annually.

PROPOSAL NO. 3 MOTTO:

"YOU WRITE THE CHECKS; WE'LL KEEP THE BALANCES"

Michigan is $70 million in debt. Under Proposal No. 3 . . . you, the property owner, would be forced to pay that debt . . . because the corporations . . . by keeping control of the Legislature . . . would block every effort to increase their taxes. But . . . under Proposal No. 2 . . . a State House and Senate that really represents all the people will be in position to throw off the shackles of corporation control and to make the corporations pay their share of that $70 million by giving Michigan a just and fair tax structure.

The corporations sponsor Proposal No. 3 because it would enable them to maintain their special privileges in Lansing. They refer to Proposal No. 3 as a system of "checks and balances." What they mean is, "You write the checks, and we'll keep the balances." When they talk about protecting "interests," they mean their "interests"—not yours.

Trees Fight For Life Against Many Enemies

By HENRY FREE

How long will a tree live? Theoretically, trees should live forever, but they never do. Some of our giant live oaks in the gulf states and redwoods of California appear as if they would last until eternity. The largest known tree is a colossal Montezuma cypress growing near Santa Maria del Tule about 300 miles south of Mexico City. This botanical Methuselah has a trunk diameter of over 46 feet and is estimated to be about 2000 years old. Even this makes it but a youngster compared with some of the giant redwoods, the age of which is said to exceed 4000 years.

Trees put on new growth each year. A new layer of live sapwood is formed around the trunk and branches, new leaves and some new roots develop, and the branches elongate. If this process continued year after year, there would be no limit to the size which our trees could attain. Actually, in nature it does not work out that way.

Insects, diseases, windstorms, unfavorable soil conditions for continued root growth, exhaustion of fertilizing nutrients in the soil, and toxic gases in the atmosphere are a few of the agencies detrimental to tree growth which finally cause the death of many trees.

When trees become very large they also become structurally weak. The branches become so long and heavy that they break in storms. The broken branches leave wounds which rot-producing fungi can enter and eat away the heartwood to further weaken the tree.

When the top of a tree gets big the root system must also be extensive to furnish the top with water and nutrients. The roots are in competition with the roots of other plants and their continued growth is checked by this competition.

In cities, paved streets, basements, excavations for sewers and water lines, and constant traffic which packs the soil all restrict tree root growth. Root rot diseases may destroy the root system or so weaken it that the tree will die.

When the roots can no longer supply the top with enough moisture and nutrients, the tree starts to decline. Then insects or disease, which the tree was resistant to when growth was vigorous, may attack it and cause its death.

Have you ever wondered how old that large tree in your yard might be? The only sure method of telling its age would be to cut it down and count the rings. However, you can come fairly close to its true age if you measure the diameter of the tree trunk in inches, 3 1/2 feet from the ground, and multiply the diameter by the number corresponding to the type of tree in the following list.

Two and one-half for silver maple, elm, tulip, apple, pear, cherry; three for black walnut, black oak; four for birch, sweet gum, red oak, sycamore; five for ash, white oak; six for beech, sour gum, sugar maple; eight for shagbark and other hickories.

For example—a black oak 12 inches in diameter would be approximately 36 years old.

Trees do not live forever, but if given proper care most of them can be preserved throughout the lifetime of their owners and for a few succeeding generations.

Fertilization, soil aeration to improve conditions for root growth, cabling and bracing to prevent storm damage, protection from insects and diseases, lighting protection for large and valuable trees, pruning to remove dead and weak branches through which rots may enter, and wound treatments to promote healing are tree care practices which insure a long life for our shade trees.

An Appeal to Reason and A Challenge TO PUT PRINCIPLE AHEAD OF PARTISANSHIP

Let thoughtful Republicans and Independent Voters take note...

The Republican candidate for the United States Senate has repudiated the belief of the late Senator Vandenberg that politics should stop at the water's edge.

The Republican candidate has repudiated Vandenberg's unpartisan approach to the alliance of the free nations of Europe against the Communist conspiracy.

The Republican candidate for Senate has opposed Gen. Eisenhower, Paul Hoffman and John Foster Dulles at every opportunity in their advocacy of a Western European union against Soviet imperialism.

The Republican nominee for the Senate is at odds with the leader of the Republican ticket, Gen. Eisenhower, on...

MUTUAL SECURITY

MCCARRAN IMMIGRATION BILL

SOCIAL SECURITY

MILITARY STRENGTH

KOREAN WAR

The Republican candidate was hand-picked for the Senate race by Arthur Summerfield, then Republican National Committeeman, whose fundraising scheme for the party in 1948 was followed by the indictment of 18 auto dealers for violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act.

The Republican candidate is embraced by the Chicago Tribune, arch-foe of Vandenberg, which hailed the nomination of Rep. Charles E. Potter on Aug. 5 as "repudiation of the so-called bipartisanship in foreign policy by Michigan Republicans" and as "a popular rebuke to those forces in the party which swung delegates at the Chicago convention into the camp of Gen. Eisenhower."

The Republican candidate is financed, in the main, by the small but powerful oligarchy which rules the auto industry who have bought their way into control of the Republican party of Michigan.

Potter is the candidate of THOUGHTFUL Republicans ONLY IN THE SENSE THAT HIS NAME APPEARS ON THEIR BALLOT.

The Republican candidate has not been on the job for you in Congress. During 1952 he responded to only 46 per cent of roll-call votes. He was absent and not voting 54 per cent of the time.

He has told you this was because of his attendance at important committee meetings.

Yet the record of public hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee lists the Republican candidate as ABSENT from 30 of the 46 daily sessions held in 1952.

(When the hearings were held in Detroit, and covered by Detroit newspapers, Potter was 100 per cent present. When the hearings were held elsewhere, his attendance slumped to 21 per cent.)

Said the Republican candidate in a speech at Cheboygan:

"If elected to the United States Senate, I will give the people of Michigan the same representation I have given them in the House."

POTTER VICTORY HAILED BLOW TO 'BIPARTISANISM'

Also Called Rebuke for Chicago Swing to Ike

Detroit, Aug. 6 [Special]—The smashing victory in yesterday's Republican primary of Rep. Charles E. Potter over State Auditor General John B. Martin Jr., for nomination to the United States senate was regarded here today as repudiation of so-called bipartisanship in foreign policy by Michigan Republicans.

The outcome was also viewed in political circles as a popular rebuke to those forces in the party which swung delegates at the Chicago convention into the camp of Gen. Eisenhower.

Both Martin and Moody are announced believers in the brand of internationalism espoused by the late Sen. Vandenberg.

"SENATOR MOODY HAS MADE A BRILLIANT RECORD IN SUPPORT OF AMERICAN PLANS AND AMERICAN IDEALS" The Detroit News Editorial Page

The Detroit News Was Founded April 18, 1881

The Commentator - - - -

By W. K. KELSEY

Senator Moody's Record

When death removed Arthur H. Vandenberg from the Senate in April, 1951, Gov. Williams brushed aside suggestions of CIO leaders and appointed Blair Moody to fill the vacancy. This action was a surprise, because Mr. Moody had never held office nor been a candidate for any political position, elective or appointive. He was, and had been for 18 years, a Washington correspondent for The Detroit News.

The nature of that work gave him unusual qualifications for the senatorship. He had seen nine Congresses in action, and part of a tenth. He had witnessed all but a few weeks of the Franklin Roosevelt Administrations, and all of Harry Truman's to the time of his appointment. He had had to become familiar with bills and acts, and the arguments pro and con. He had intimate knowledge of the methods by which both houses conduct their business. He knew his way about the multifarious departments and offices in the executive end of the Government.

Therefore he was no learner needing instruction. He could step into the Senate and play the game like an old hand. The fact was recognized by veteran members that the new Senator was already qualified and could be treated as an equal.

AS A CORRESPONDENT, it had been Blair Moody's duty to report the news as it developed, and interpret it without political bias. But interpretation implies the use of judgment, and since he was by inclination a liberal, he took in these articles the liberal point of view, which rather frequently was bipartisan. He had never thought of himself as tied to a party. But when he was appointed by a Democratic Governor, it was the expectation and indeed the understanding that he would enroll as a Democrat and act like one.

However, there are various shades of Democracy. Some are liberal and some are not. Some are liberal part of the time, some almost never. Mr. Moody joined the known liberal wing of the party, containing such men as Senators Lehman, of New York; Douglas, of Illinois; Kefauver, of Tennessee; Humphrey, of Minnesota; Murray, of Montana; O'Mahoney, of Wyoming; and the late Brian McMahon, of Connecticut.

Rep. Potter's Record

NATURALLY, THE REPUBLICAN Party in Michigan covets Mr. Moody's seat. In the primary election it defeated a candidate whom the Commentator considered well-qualified, Aud. Gen. John B. Martin, Jr., and nominated Rep. Charles E. Potter, elected to the House in 1947 to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rep. Fred Bradley, and re-elected in 1948 and 1950.

Mr. Potter is an ambitious young man, which is not against him. He was a good soldier in World War II, which is not a political liability. He has an excellent reputation as a citizen. His private life is admirable. But the Commentator, who has watched him with some consistency during his time in Congress, has been forced to the conclusion that as a statesman Mr. Potter is obsolete. He appears like a man walking through a wilderness, assuming the scenery for familiar landmarks, and listening for echoes of ancient voices to tell him which way to go.

HE HAS VOTED FOR protective tariffs when foreigners must sell to America or ask for our charity. At a time when the United States is rebuilding her armaments he has been consistently in favor of reducing appropriations for that purpose. He has voted to reduce economic aid to our allies. He has voted against Point 4, and for cutting funds for the Voice of America. He voted against both military and economic assistance to Korea in 1949 and thereafter. He voted to kill mutual security, as late as last June.

Indeed, Mr. Potter was so thoroughly against everything the Administration and our military defense leaders stood for that he won the admiration of Col. McCormick and was given an accolade by his newspaper. Meanwhile there were numerous Republicans in the House who neither thought nor voted as he did, putting the interests of their country above those of partisanship. The Commentator believes that if Arthur Vandenberg were alive today, he would not be amused by the votes of Rep. Potter.

Some Moody Accomplishments

LAST JULY, SENATOR DOUGLAS placed in the Congressional Record a summary of Senator Moody's activities. "There is no question," he said, "that Blair Moody has covered a lot of ground in 14 months," and he submitted 59 instances in support of that statement. Among them:

Senator Moody "led a 12-month fight through the Senate Committee on Government Operations and on the floor of the Senate for ultimate approval of the McClellan Bill, calling for creation of a Joint Committee on the Budget and year-round Congressional analysis by nonpolitical experts of Government spending. This has been termed the greatest single step toward substantial Government economy in years."

Co-sponsored the Economy Act of 1952, giving the President power to veto separate items in appropriation bills.

Championed streamlining of Government operations as advised by the Hoover Commission.

With Senators Monroney and Humphrey led a two-day battle on the Senate floor to take politics out of the Bureau of Internal Revenue—"a victory over some of the most powerful leaders of the Senate."

Additions to the List

SENATOR MOODY INTRODUCED and won passage for the amendment to provide $45 monthly combat pay for GI's fighting in Korea, after it had been twice rejected in Senate committee and twice by House conferees.

Voted in committee to kill S. 1140, which would have transferred veterans' hospitals to a new Department of Health. Rep. Potter has accused him of introducing this bill and trying to push it through—confusing him with Senator Ferguson.

Obtained extra leave for Michigan GI's who paid their own way home for a brief vacation after training in Hawaii. With Senator Lyndon Johnson, was instrumental in changing Army policy on training men in Hawaii.

With Senator Aiken, Vermont Republican, won the battle to get a favorable report on the St. Lawrence Seaway out of the Foreign Relations Committee. When the Senate rejected this proposal, 43 to 40, his attempts to secure further action were blocked by the Republican leader on the last day of the session.

With Gov. Williams, fought for allocation of more steel for the manufacture of more cars in the second quarter of 1952, and thus averted a layoff of some 100,000 men. Voted against the McCarran Act restricting immigration, and urged the President to veto it, which he did.

THE CONCLUSION TO WHICH the Commentator is compelled is that Senator Moody has made a brilliant record in support of American plans and American ideals, while Rep. Potter has stood for obstruction and isolation. With Gen. Eisenhower hoping for a united, forward-looking America, on the record Moody should be his boy, not Potter.

Outcome in Doubt
The tournament was one of the most exciting held here in recent years with the final results in doubt until almost two hours after the close of play. It was necessary to very carefully check and recheck all score sheets before the final decision could be announced. While the winners and runners-up held the same relative positions as at the close of Saturday evening's play, Mrs. W. P. Belanger and Mrs. C. E. Johnson jumped from a tie for 11th place to 3rd place at the close of the tournament and finished only one-half match point behind the runners-up and one and one-half match points back of the winners.

Pairs were entered from Appleton, Green Bay, Neenah and Menasha, Peshigo, Wis., and Gladstone, Marquette and Escanaba. Tournament play was under the direction of J. L. Temby.

Baked Walleye With Dressing Is A Tasty Dish

Topping the list of savory November game dishes is a recipe for baked stuffed walleye, first among nine other tempting concoctions in the cooking department of Field & Stream's November issue.

Submitted by Stanley E. Stevens, of Ellington, New York, the recipe has been tested, tasted, and tributed by Jan Mitchell, sportsman-owner of Luchow's Restaurant and cooking expert for Field & Stream. Stevens, who ascribes to the true outdoorsman's kind of appetite, states that you don't have to catch them yourself, but they taste much better when you do. We agree with him. But whether by present or piscatorial perseverance, once you have your walleyes, here is what you do with them:

- Baked Stuffed Walleye
2 3-pound walleyes
3 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped olives
1 pinch cayenne pepper
1 pinch nutmeg
1 tablespoon parsley
2 tablespoons thinly sliced carrots
3 tablespoons string beans, sliced lengthwise
2 tablespoons diced celery
2 tablespoons thinly sliced onions
Juice of one lemon
Evaporated milk to moisten
Clean fish, leaving heads on. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Stuff fish with rest of ingredients. Sew or skewer sides to prevent dressing from escaping. Place in oiled aluminum roasting pan. Brush top with evaporated milk. Pour enough hot water into bottom of pan to barely cover. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 to 60 minutes. Garnish with parsley, quartered tomatoes and lemon slices dusted with paprika.

Voters Go To Polls Tuesday

Gladstone voters go to the polls Tuesday to cast ballots in the general election and the voting is expected to set an all time high not only here but in all parts of the nation.

Citizens will ballot on national, state and county offices and also on three proposals to amend the state constitution.

In Gladstone all balloting will be at a central polling place, the City Hall. Here voting booths have been erected for each of the four precincts. Polls will open at 7 in the morning and remain open until 8 in the evening.

Split election boards will function, one board working during the hours the polls are open while separate counting boards take over when the polls close. This is in accordance with policy established for general elections and facilitates the tallying.

Menominee Is Named U. P. Football Champion

Harry Monson Of Iron River 'Coach Of Year'

By RAY CRANDALL

IRON MOUNTAIN—The untied and undefeated Menominee Maroons, who own the longest consecutive victory streak in the Upper Peninsula, were named 1952 U. P. champions at a meeting of the Sports Writers Association here Saturday.

Menominee has won its last 15 grid games, including seven games this season.

The sports scribes named Harry Monson, coach of the unbeaten and untied Iron River Redskins, 1952 Coach of the Year. Monson will be awarded the Gladstone Lions club Coach of the Year trophy at an early meeting.

Consider Three Teams
The writers considered three unbeaten and untied teams for the No. 1 honor, which is symbolized by the Floyd Barber trophy. Wakefield, a Class C powerhouse, was also undefeated this year.

Choice of Menominee was based on that team's record against Upper Peninsula competition this year. Coach Ken Radick's Maroons met and defeated Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Escanaba and Sault Ste. Marie. Iron River's record was posted against Bessemer, Calumet, Norway, Stambaugh, Kingsford and Iron Mountain and Wakefield's U. P. wins came over Baraga, Houghton, Ontonagon, Bessemer, Lake Linden, Hancock and L'Anse.

Menominee thus takes over the top position in the Peninsula which was voted to Newberry last year. It is the second championship in the past three years for the Maroons who were rated tops in 1949.

It was also the second such honor for Coach Monson in the past four years. He was named Coach of the Year in 1950 after an unbeaten season. His Redskins have won 22 of their last 24 starts.

Trethway President

The Association named Jim Trethway of the Marquette Mining Journal president to succeed James Ripley of Menominee. Ray Crandall, Escanaba, was elected vice president and Hap Rondeau, Iron Mountain, was named secretary-treasurer.

Escanaba will be host to the 1953 spring meeting which will be held the first weekend after the state basketball tournaments.

The sports writers also named the all-U. P. first and second linemen of the year and back of the year. The story will be released Thursday this week.

Eleven writers from eight Upper Peninsula newspapers attended the meeting. Present were Trethway, Bob Biolo and Ken Lowe of Marquette; Ripley of Menominee, Rondeau of Iron Mountain, Crandall and Ed McCarthy of Escanaba, Gene Wodzinski of Iron River, George Lenson of Ironwood, Herb Levin of Sault Ste. Marie, and Gene Make of Wakefield.

Undefeated College Grid List Is Now 28

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-eight college football teams across the country remained unbeaten and untied today.

Little Peru Teachers of Nebraska boasts the best mark—eight straight triumphs without a defeat. Among the major colleges, Georgia Tech, Maryland and U. C. L. A., all have won seven while Michigan State and Southern California have captured six.

Twelve teams dropped from the list.

Four More Trojans Out For Basketball

Four new candidates for the St. Joe basketball team reported for practice today, it was announced by Coach Tom St. Germain.

New additions are Ron Boisseneau, Dick Moreau, LeRoy Villeneuve and John Berrigan. Berrigan and Villeneuve are freshmen while Boisseneau and Moreau are juniors.

The new candidates swell to 39 the number out for the Trojan squad this season.

DeWayne King, newest addition to the Michigan State football coaching staff, once played at Minnesota under Lowell "Red" Dawson, former Spartan backfield coach and now head coach at Pittsburgh.

When Eugene Lekenta kicked the game-winning field goal for Michigan State in their 1952 contest with Oregon State, it was the seventh such goal for the Spartans since 1949, two of them being against the Beavers.

Dauids Top Al's Team 56-42, Replay Tonight

The House of David basketball team, which ran up a 56-42 victory over Al's Tavern Saturday night, kept a small crowd on edge.

will make a repeat appearance here tonight.

The Dauids and Al's will play their rematch at 9 at Bonifas gymnasium. The traveling Dauids were slated to perform tonight in Manistique but the game was cancelled.

Manager Bob Jensen's Al's quint found the going rough against the visitors Saturday night. The Dauids gave a convincing demonstration of straight basketball and then clowning and ran through their bag of court tricks that there will be no preliminary tonight, Jensen announced.

In action again for Al's will be Jack Courneene, Tipply Legault, Don Lewis, Don Paulin, Roy Johnson, George Anderson, Bob McCarthy, Bill Baker and Gerald Harris.

The Dauids were paced to their Saturday night victory by Harry McLaughlin, 6-4 bundle of scoring dynamite. McLaughlin owns a deadly shooting eye and jumps like a scared jack rabbit under the bucket.

Packers Beat Eagles 12-10, Tie For Third

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Green Bay Packers continued in a tie today for third place in the western division of the National Football League, thanks primarily to rookie Deral Teteak and powerful John Martinkovic.

Tied for third place are the Packers, Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears. All have 3-3 records.

Green Bay whipped the Philadelphia Eagles before a small turnout of 10,149 in Marquette stadium here Sunday. The score was 12-10, and the winning touchdown came in the fourth period as Teteak blocked a punt. Martinkovic grabbed the bounding ball and fought his way nine yards into the end zone, carrying several Eagles with him.

Passes Click

The Packers got a touchdown in the first period. Vito (Babe) Parilli hit Bill Howton on a pass play that carried 42 yards to the Philadelphia 21, then Parilli tossed to Floyd (Breezy) Reid in the end zone.

The usually consistent Fred Cone missed both conversion attempts.

Bob Walston got Philadelphia three points in the opening period with a 23-yard field goal. It followed recovery of a fumble by Cone, one of six made by the Packers.

Interception TD

Russ Craft intercepted a pass by Tobin Rote in the final period and ran 30 yards untouched into the end zone. Walston added the 10th Philadelphia point by conversion.

Green Bay had a 13-9 edge in first downs and gained 137 yards rushing to 56 for the Eagles. The Packers had a 153-to-70 advantage in passing yardage.

Green Bay 6 0 0 6-10

Jim Doran Is Star As Lions Tip Browns 17-6

By HARRY STAPLER

DETROIT (AP)—Now that the Detroit Lions have hastened back into the National Football League race—well, almost back in—the tale of shy defensive end Jim Doran merits attention. It has some strange angles.

Yesterday Doran was a sometimes streaking, sometimes smashing Lion end whose play helped more than anything else to keep the fabulous Cleveland Browns from reaching touchdownland—and the Lions walked off with a 17-6 victory before 56,029 fans. The Browns points came on two field goals.

Only a few hours after Doran had finished his afternoon of spilling Brown quarterback Otto Graham on the back side of his soiled white uniform, the Chicago Bears upset the previously-unbeaten San Francisco 49ers on the West coast.

Trail 49ers

Thus, with Doran's help, the Lions now have a second-place mark a 4-2 in the western division National Conference, just a game behind San Francisco 5-1. San Francisco must yet play highly-touted Los Angeles in two games and the tough New York Giants once. So there's hope for the Lions.

As for Doran, there are some of the unusual angles: He never played high school football and couldn't make the varsity at little Buena Vista College in Iowa.

He transferred to Iowa State and played both offensively and defensively in his junior year. But in his senior year he appeared on defense on only one play. With the Lions last year, he was primarily an offensive end.

Yesterday Jim came into his own defensively.

The Lions were protecting a 10-6 lead when Doran slashed in on successive plays to dump Graham for 19 and 11-yard losses.

Grabs Arm

Later when the Browns were trying to get a march started, Doran whizzed in and grabbed at Graham's arm just as the quarterback was throwing. The ball was thus deflected into the arms of Lion Lavern Torgeson.

Offensively quarterback Bobby Layne and end Leon Hart stood out.

Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland club hailed Layne as the outstanding player on the field.

Hart caught two of Layne's passes, one for seven yards in the second period and another for nine in the fourth period, for touchdowns. Hart, who was celebrating his 24th birthday, caught six other Layne passes.

Fullback Pat Harder kicked a

43-yard second-period field goal, but suffered a jammed neck on a running play. Cloyce Boxx, who caught a 40-yard Layne pass to set up the touchdown that gave the Lions a 10-3 halftime lead suffered a shoulder separation and will be sidelined for two to three weeks at least.

HORSE KNOWS HOW—W. J. Greaves lost control and was forced to dismount in mid-air, his mount taking the triple bar without effort in the open jump event of Austria's Perth Royal Show. Although the jolt of ending up on the turf required first aid, the rider returned to win the water jump. (NEA Photo)

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Thirty-two players were elected to the Football Hall of Fame, including Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jim Thorpe, Red Grange and Pudge Heffelfinger.

FIVE YEARS AGO—The Chicago Black Hawks traded Max Bentley, the National Hockey League's leading scorer for two seasons, for five Toronto Maple Leaf players.

TEN YEARS AGO—The baseball writers named Joe Gordon of the New York Yankees the "Most Valuable Player" in the American League.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight, knocked out Les Kennedy in three rounds at Boston.

Black Hawks Continue To Lead Hockey League

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks, melting pot of the National Hockey league, are showing no signs of slackening the pace that has established them as the surprise team of the league.

Composed primarily of former Detroit and Toronto players, Chicago tops the circuit by two points today and is riding the crest of a five-game unbeaten streak.

The Hawks turned back the Boston Bruins, 4-1, last night before 15,422 fans, one of the best Chicago crowds in quite a while. The triumph boosted Chicago's advantage over Montreal to two points. The Canadiens and New York Rangers battled to a 2-2 tie while Toronto knocked off Detroit's defending champions 4-2.

Former Red Wing Doc Couture and ex-Maple Leaf Cal Gardner netted in the first period to give Chicago the upper hand for keeps. Jim McFadden, another former Detroit, scored in the second period.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard failed, in the Canadian-Ranger battle at New York, for the second straight night to smash the all-time league goal-getting record.

Richard and Nels Stewart are tied for that honor at 324 goals each. The Canadiens star got off only six shots at the Ranger net and each time little Lorne Worsley turned him back.

Elmer Lach and Bert Olmstead, collected both Montreal goals.

The Leafs wrapped up their victory over the Red Wings in the first two periods. Sid Smith and Jim Morrison scored in the first and smoothie Max Bentley in the second. Harry Watson added another goal in the final. The loss was Detroit's first at home since Jan. 26, 1952.

Trojan Gridders To Be Lions Club Guests

Coaches Tom St. Germain and Hack Hanson and the St. Joe Trojan football squad will be guests of the Escanaba Lions Club at its dinner meeting tonight at the Sherman Hotel.

St. Joe finished its 1952 football season last weekend with a record of six wins against two losses. The Trojans have won 12 of their last 14 starts.

The Lions last week were host to the Escanaba Eskymo squad and coaches Joe Milokna and Burt Gustafson.

John Sahatian, a member of Michigan State's tennis team is co-holder of the 1952 Detroit city doubles championship and the Oakland Hills invitational doubles championship.

The 34 points scored by Michigan State against Penn State in their 1952 game were the most tallied by either team in a series which dates back to 1914.

Hoosier On Spartan Squad Helps Beat Purdue, 14-7

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Just before the plane carrying the Michigan State squad to the Purdue game landed in Indiana, line backer Doug Weaver, the only Hoosier in the lineup, took over the public address system.

Weaver, a native of Goshen, gave a brief lecture on the glories of his native state.

"I want you all to show the proper respect for the sacred soil of Indiana," he concluded.

In the closing minutes of the game, it was Weaver who assured the Spartans their 14-7 victory over Purdue for the 21st Michigan State victory without a tie.

Intercepts Pass

Purdue was down to the Michigan State nine-yard line and driving for a score that could have meant a tie. But Weaver stepped in to snap a jump pass, thrown by Purdue quarterback Dale Samuels, and ended the threat.

The two Michigan State scores, one in the first period and the other in the second, both came at the end of short marches.

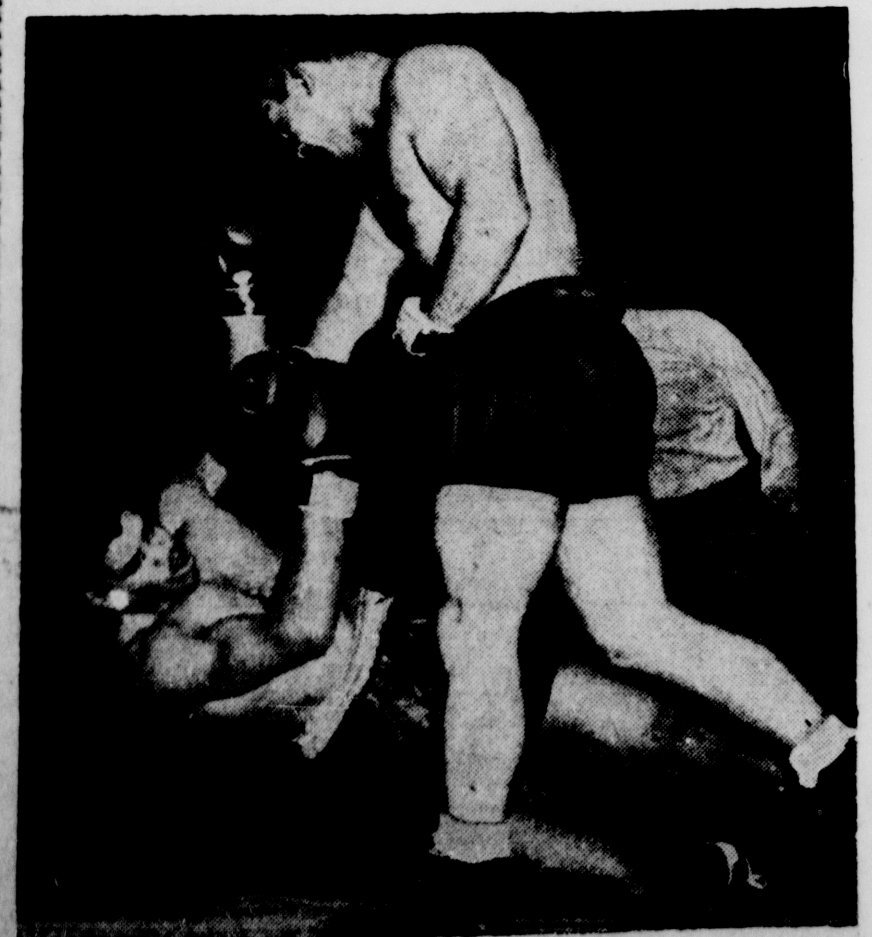

Don McAuliffe charged over from the two-yard line after a 28-yard surge in the first quarter. A 58-yard drive with McAuliffe and Billy Wells doing most of the running set off the second MSC touchdown.

Tom Yewcic on the Purdue seven-yard line, called an optional pass or run play. Yewcic couldn't find a receiver open so lit out for the goal line and scored around right end.

A Samuels pass from midfield to end Bernie Flowers on the five yard line set up the lone Purdue score. Earl Heninger bucked over from the two-foot line two plays later.

The burly Boilermaker defense stiffened in the third period and the entire last half was mainly a battle of punters and defenses.

The excellence of the Michigan State rushing defense was illustrated by statistics that showed Purdue made a net of only 31 yards rushing on 34 carries. Michigan State made 197 yards rushing but was outclassed in the passing attack, netting only 76 yards to 193 for Purdue.

DOWN HE GOES — Charlie Norkus, Bayonne, N. J., heavyweight literally drove Tommy Harrison to the canvas in the ninth round, in Providence, R. I. The Los Angeles light-heavy got up to win a split 10-round decision. (NEA Photo)

Trojans Have Hawaiian Warhorse

AP Newsfeatures

LOS ANGELES—Charley Ane, a Hawaiian-born 247-pounder, is getting plenty of action for Coach Jess Hill's Southern California Trojans this season.

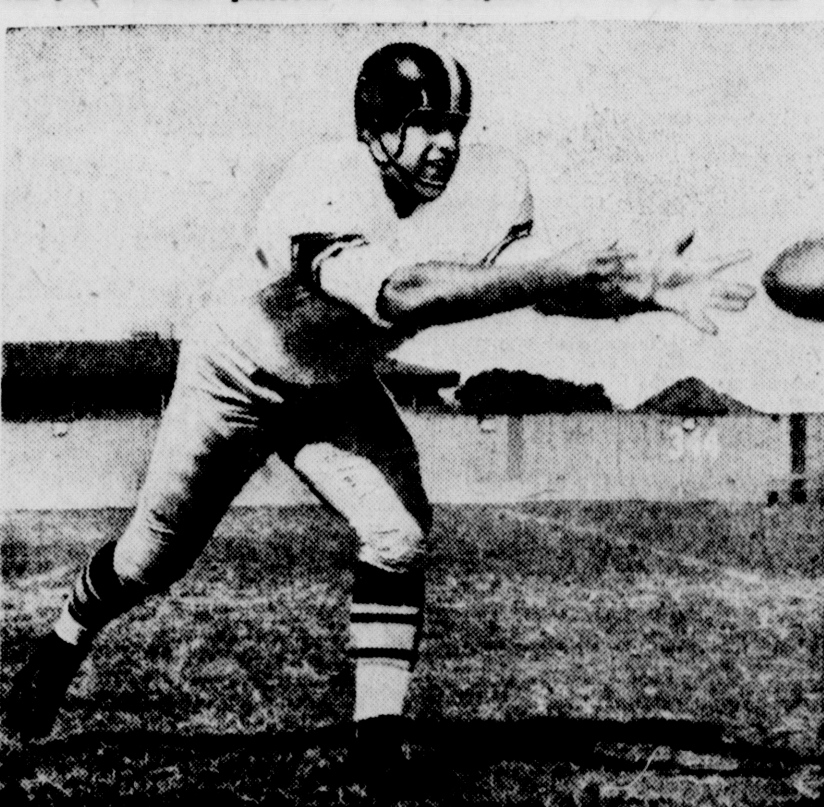

You see, during Hill's first campaign as coach last season he had his charges alternating between the single wing and T formation. Ane, now a junior of six feet two inches, starred whether he played tackle on defense or guard on offense. Ane saw 236 minutes of action and made the third team All-Coast eleven in his first season with the Trojans.

This year Ane is Southern California's offensive quarterback. Yet, under the single wing plan of attack employed by the Trojans, Ane seldom carries the ball because he is the blocking back for the ball carrier. On defense he is the left tackle and has been starring despite the two vastly different positions.

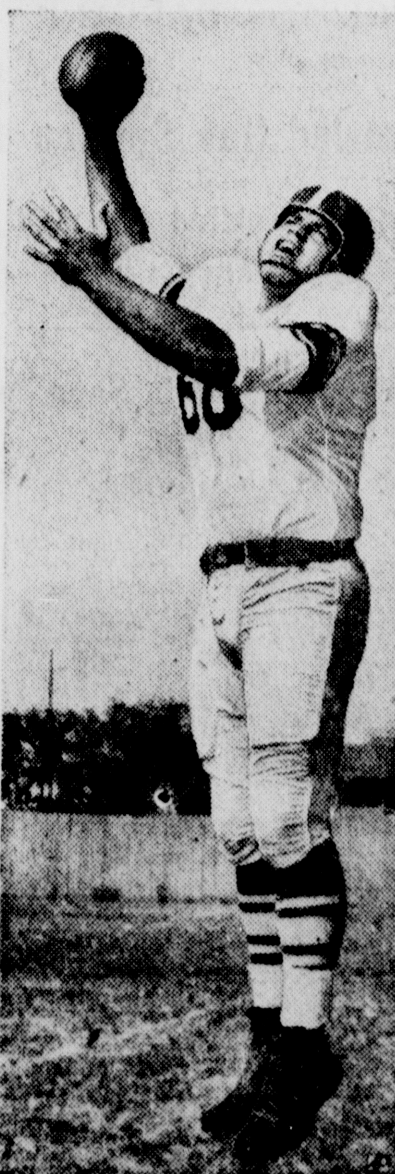

Ane, who is of Hawaiian-Samoan-Chinese-English extraction, is one of seven backfield letter winners of 1951. Only five of these backs play on both platoons for the Trojans. Ane is one of them.

Grid Campaigns Reaching Home Stretch

Five Eye Unbeaten Season

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (AP) — As the politicians would say, the time has come, ladies and gentlemen, to start looking ahead.
Five football coaches of the country's major teams are doing just that today. They're looking ahead to the remainder of their schedules and hoping they can remain unbeaten and untied. Michigan State, Maryland, Georgia Tech, Southern California and UCLA are the teams still in the select circle.
One thing is certain and that is, barring a tie, either UCLA's Red Sanders or Southern Cal's Jesse Hill is going to be disappointed before the season ends. Their teams meet head on two weeks from Saturday and on the result probably will go the Pacific Coast Conference title and a bid to the Rose Bowl.

Easy Weekend
Neither has a particularly tough task this week. UCLA meets Oregon State and Southern Cal goes against Stanford, the defending conference champion.
As for Biggie Munn and his Michigan State outfit, the No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll, the Spartans' next three opponents — Indiana, Notre Dame and Marquette — are thinking up ways and means of keeping the score down. Of them all the Irish stand the best chance of getting through unscathed.
Jim Tatum's Maryland forces face the two toughest foes on their schedule when they get back into action two weeks hence—Mississippi and Alabama.

If Bobby Dodd and his Georgia Tech operatives can get by Alabama on Nov. 15, they should be able to close the season's business with a perfect slate.
Ties On Record
In addition to Mississippi, Oklahoma and Villanova still are among the unbeaten although tied.
As for the bowls, the picture still is cloudy and probably will be for at least another week. Georgia Tech is a certainty to go to either the Orange or Sugar Bowl—probably the latter. Michigan State, which operates under Big Ten rules, is ineligible as is Maryland, which is on a one-year suspension from the Southern Conference for playing in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1.
The Rose Bowl probably will have UCLA or Southern California as the host. The Big Ten representative is far from being determined. Purdue is the current leader. Michigan also has a good chance of making it, despite being upset, 22-13, by Illinois Saturday.

Texas Favored
The Southwest Conference champion acts as host in the Cotton Bowl. The best that can be said is that Texas, on the basis of its 31-14 triumph over Southern Methodist, is in the favorite's role.
Except for South Carolina's well-turned 21-14 victory over Virginia, most of Saturday's games followed the expected script. Michigan State nipped Purdue, 4-7; Maryland breezed past Boston U., 34-7; Oklahoma shut out Iowa State, 41-0; Georgia Tech defeated Duke, 28-7; Kansas stopped Kansas State, 26-6; UCLA defeated California, 28-7; Tennessee swept past North Carolina, 41-14; Notre Dame halted Navy, 17-6, and Penn State nipped Penn., 14-7.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The United States took permanent possession of the 104th Cavalry trophy at the Pennsylvania National horse show Sunday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Conway of unbeaten William Jewell, Mo., continues to top collegiate football's scoring parade today with 96 points. Conway, a halfback, has scored 16 touchdowns in eight games. He tallied twice on Saturday as William Jewell defeated Kolla, 47-19.

CHICAGO (AP)—Purdue's Bernie Flowers, scoreless in the 14-7 Boilermaker loss to Michigan State nonetheless maintained his Big Ten point leadership. His 42-point total still was six points better than any other Big Ten player.

Sport Shorties

Michigan State's 1952 battle with Texas A & M marked the first football game between those two schools since 1934.

The Detroit Lions all-time single game scoring mark of 52 points was set against Green Bay twice. Detroit won 52-35 in 1951 and 52-17 during the 1952 season.

Bobby Layne, Detroit Lion quarterback, holds 15 team passing marks for lifetime, season, and single game performances. Layne joined the Detroit club in 1948.

Three members of the 1951 Detroit Lions, halfback Doak Walker, end Leon Hart, and guard Lou Creekmur, were named to the National Football League All-Pro team.

The 1951 Detroit football team was the highest scoring Lion team in 18 years of play in the NFL. Coach Buddy Parker's Forces tallied 386 points in 12 games, a 28.0 average per game.

When Bobby Layne kicked an extra point against the Green Bay Packers, holding for the conversion for the first time in his seven years of professional football was fullback Pat Harder, a place-kicking specialist in his own right.

Fired Up Illini Slap 22-13 Loss On Wolves

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan reflected sadly today on the chief tenet of Wolverine Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's gridiron philosophy. "Football is an emotional game," Oosterbaan has chanted season after season. "And unless you match your opponents' emotional intensity you're in trouble."
Never was his point more conclusively proven than it was Saturday when a hepped up underdog Illinois team handed Michigan one of its most decisive beatings of recent years, 22-13.

Apparently convinced of their own well balanced ability proven in wins over Northwestern, Indiana and Minnesota, the Wolverines walked calmly into the thrice-beaten Illinois team and suffered disaster. It was their third loss in three years to Illinois.

was blocked by Wodziak through the end zone for a safety, and Illinois was off with a 2-0 lead.

Illinois scored again in the first period and added two more in the second before Michigan was even able to start an offensive. The first came on Ken Miller's 25 yard run after a punt return to the Michigan 25. Second period miscues set up the other two scores. Illinois Captain Al Bro-sky, wearing a brace to protect his injured back, intercepted a Kress pass on the Illinois 48. Six plays later, O'Connell sneaked for one yard and the touchdown. Michigan had the ball for one play and Howell fumbled on the Michigan 38 where Illinois line-backer Herb Borman fell on the ball. It only took the Illini four plays to score, with O'Connell again sneaking over. Dick Miller converted the first two touchdowns and missed the third.

Michigan charged back after the intermission swarming down to recover the kickoff on the Illinois three. On the next play, Kress ran over the goal line and fumbled with freshman Tony Branoff recovering for the first touchdown. Russ Rescorla's kick attempt was blocked. Then, aided by two Illinois fumbles, recovered by fullback Dick Balzhiser and guard Don Dugger, Michigan moved 77 yards with Kress sprinting the last 22. Rescorla converted.
Michigan appeared off to the races with more than a full period yet to play.
With Kress clipping off a neat 31 yard run, Branoff chipping in dashes of seven and 11 yards, and quarterback Ted Topor hitting Lowell Perry with a 23 yard pass, the Wolverines barged down to the Illinois eight. Hene, Topor's quarterback sneak, successful in six of seven tries this season, failed. Illinois took over the ball and Michigan's major effort was over.

Pro Grid Race Wide Open, 49ers Beaten

NEW YORK (AP)—Before the season started, it was predicted the National Football League conference races would be wide open affairs, with at least three teams in each division battling for honors.
Well, so far, with the season exactly half over, only one team has followed the form charts in each of its games. That's the Dallas Texans. They've dropped six straight, just as the odds said they would.
Even the high-powered San Francisco 49ers aren't safe in this uncertain league.
Bears Get Win
The Chicago Bears —15-point underdogs—handed the 49ers their first setback of the season yesterday with a jolting 20-17 victory on George Blanda's 48-yard field goal in the fourth period.
San Francisco had won five straight games and was threatening to make a complete runaway with the National conference. But now it's a close race, with the Detroit Lions 4-2 only one game behind in second place.
The Lions pulled a mild upset themselves by defeating the Cleveland Browns, 17-8, as Bobby Layne tossed two touchdown passes to end Leon Hart.

Tie For Lead
This game not only moved Detroit closer to San Francisco, but also sent the American conference into a two-way tie for first place between Cleveland and the New York Giants.
The Giants moved into a tie for the lead by walloping the Chicago Cardinals, 28-6, on two touchdown passes by Charley Conerly and two TD runs by Eddie Price.
As a result, the Giants and Browns have identical 4-2 records.
The situation should clear somewhat next week when the Giants play host to the 49ers in what figures to be one of the top games of the season.
A total of 219,941 fans turned out yesterday for a full six-game card which also saw the Los Angeles Rams trounce the Texans, 42-20; Pittsburgh stop a late Washington rally for a 24-23 victory, and Green Bay nip Philadelphia, 12-10.

Seek Opinions On Prison Camp

Public opinion is being sought on the proposed establishment of a prison work camp next year in the Manistique area, it is announced.
Establishment of the camp, to be located on federal forest land in Inwood township, was given unofficial approval by several public officials and chamber of commerce representatives at a meeting here last Wednesday night.
State officials at the meeting said that only short term minor offenders would be used in the camp work program. No sex offenders would be included. All prisoners would be under rigid supervision, and the camp area would be posted and no leaves permitted to inmates.
Work to be performed by the prisoners is not covered by any appropriation and would not be done unless prison labor is used.
Persons opposing the establishment of such a camp in this area are invited to make their objections known to proper authorities.
Public officials at last week's conference with state authorities have pointed out that their unofficial approval of the project was a personal one, and should not be interpreted as representing the opinion of any public board.

Three Proposals Up To Voters

DETROIT (AP)—Here is a capsule summary of the three proposals which will be placed before the state's voters for decision Tuesday:

Proposal No. 1 amends the search and seizure clause of the Michigan constitution.

If it is approved, police would be permitted to arrest narcotics peddlers for possession merely by finding drugs on their person.

The present law provides that the informer must appear in court to identify the peddler as the one who sold him the drugs.

Then there are two proposals—labeled No. 2 and No. 3—for re-districting the legislature.

Proposal No. 2 would divide house and senate seats on a strict population basis, permitted a 30 per cent variance.

Proposal No. 3 calls for a "balanced legislature"—a House chosen according to population and a Senate frozen on roughly the present basis.

Italian Professor Loses Examination Papers; Fined $6410

ROME (AP)—The loss of a set of school examination papers that resulted in the postponement of pupils' tests throughout all Italy cost Prof. Attilio Levi $6,410.

A court fined the professor that sum in connection with the disappearance in July, 1948, of the master copy of composition examinations to be given all students in state schools. Levi maintained the documents were stolen from him while he was riding on a streetcar.

The court held that the loss and preparation of new exams cost the Italian state $35,000 and ordered Levi to pay "partial compensation of damages which resulted from his negligence."
